File Injunction Against Pinchot Regarding Policy

Woman Notary Public And Attorney File Injunctions Restraining Governor

REFUSES TO SIGN POLITICAL PLEDGE

Application For Notary Permit Denied Due To Striking Out Of Clause

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 23.—An injunction against Gov. Gifford Pinchot, seeking to prevent him from requiring newly appointed or reappointed notaries public, when taking the oath of office, to subscribe to an alleged political pledge of fealty to Pinchot policies was sought today in the Dauphin county court.

The injunction was asked in two equity suits filed with the local court by Mabel M. Hamilton, a notary public, and George J. Harding, an attorney, both of Philadelphia.

Ask For Injunction

Filed in the nature of taxpayers' suits, the petitioners asked the court to issue an injunction against the governor, his secretary, P. S. Stahlneckr, State Treasurer Edward Martin and Secretary of Property and Supplies James F. Malone to prevent the governor from insisting that notaries subscribe to a pledge which states they will obey all laws "and loyally support the policies approved by the people of the commonwealth in the election of 1930."

The petitioners seek also to prevent Stahlnecker from "distributing and insisting upon said political pledge as a condition precedent to appointment in office."

They ask that Malone be enjoined from printing the oaths of office with the alleged political pledge contained therein and ask the court to enjoin Martin from paying the bills for printing the oath of office containing the pledge.

In her petition, Miss Hamilton recites that she has been a notary public for 24 years under appoint-

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Local folks who were observing closely, were surprised to see big flakes of snow mixed with the rain which was falling about 1 o'clock this afternoon. It was quite a contrast from the weather experienced yesterday, when the mercury hit 80 degrees.

Tomorrow's the "contest day" for the school musicians. They go by special train to Oil City, there to play in competition with the finest of the northwestern Pennsylvania district. Every other year the locals have shared well, winning some distinction or another. Again Pa Newc wishes them success.

New Wilmington firemen with their new fire engine had their first real chance to demonstrate the value of the fire department to the borough yesterday. With a fire developing in the bank block, largest business structure in the town, and threatening to do extensive damage the firemen responded quickly and efficiently battled the blaze, preventing serious damage.

Announcement from Harrisburg that the measure providing for the Pymatuning dam is now before the senate and will probably be passed finally next week, is gratifying. It was anticipated early in the year that this bill would be rushed thru at Harrisburg, so that work could have been started on the project by this time. It is indicated that work will be under way in early summer, by the latest development in the matter.

Not quite such a fine day for golfing!

The outlaws, enraged at failure to receive ransom for their captives, were said to have killed Esther Norlund, Chicago, Oscar Anderson, Minnesota natice attached to a Swedish mission at Kingchow and Bert Nelson of Minneapolis.

STORE ENTERED IN SEVENTH WARD

Detective C. G. Logan and Officer Robert Dukes last night at eleven o'clock answered a call to the seventh ward to investigate a robbery reported there. SEEK MYSTERIOUS INTRUDER IN CAMP ON SLIPPERY ROCK

The mystery of the open door is puzzling the best minds at the Fred L. Rentz, Y. M. C. A. Camp on Slippery Rock Creek. And now the camp directors feel that a good time at the popular summer resort for boys this season will not be complete unless there is a repetition of the strange occurence of the past few weeks.

On three different occasions this year R. L. Meermans, "Y" general secretary and his assistants have been startled to find the lodge door unlocked. They are certain they locked the door before leaving the camp for New Castle. The third occurrence was on Tuesday when the Uparatasa fraternity of the Y. M. C. A. held induction ceremonies for six new members.

When the party arrived the door was unlocked.

Meermans, and Boys' Work Director Thomas explain that the intruder, though careless in leaving the door unlocked, has never made away with any of the association's property. Nothing has been found missing.

Mayor Walker's opponents have wisely decided to withdraw any reference to his private life. They had to withdraw it on account of a biblical quotation, "Let him without sin cast the first stone." So they would have to import somebody into New York to make the accusation.

King To Rest In Preparation For Operation On Eyes Next Month

NEW YORK, April 23.—The king of Siam sighed contentedly today. He was off duty.

There were no royal responsibilities for King Prajadhipok or Queen Rambai Barni isolated in their suburban palace of Ophir Hall, loaned them by its owner, Mrs. Whitelaw Reid.

There were no troops to review, no state documents to sign, no internal nor external problems to contemplate—only the question of what to do or not to do.

Thanks to the American department of state and the assistance of the local authorities, their majesties were as isolated as a telephone booth on a desert island.

Secret service men, state troopers and estate guards did sentry duty around the royalized grounds. The king could sing in his royal bath—and no prying camera would be the wiser.

Plan To Keep Fire Truck In Reserve

Second Ward Machine To Be Kept For Future Service

WILL BE HOUSED IN OTHER STATION

Councilman Clayton H. Reeves and First Chief Charles Lynn are in favor of the city repairing the Second ward fire truck and using it as a reserve truck after the council buys a new pumper for the Second ward they stated today.

According to Reeves the truck now on duty in the Second ward is in need of repair. Bids will be opened soon for the purchase of a new truck.

Asked today if the old truck would be kept by the city he said: "I hope it is. We could house it in the South Jefferson street station."

Fire Chief Lynn also was asked if he was in favor of keeping the truck and he also said "yes" and said it could be housed in the Seventh ward fire station.

Wishes of the superintendent of the public safety department will be considered carefully by councilmanic colleagues as retention of the old truck, when repaired, will increase the city's fire-fighting apparatus.

Honduran Rebels Lose Many Men In Sharp Skirmishes

Report At Least 30 Killed In Sharp Fighting For Strategic Point

REBEL LEADER IS REPORTED KILLED

Sweeping Victories Claimed By Government In Past 48 Hours Fighting

By MARIO RIBAS
International News Service Special Correspondent

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, April 23.—Bitter fighting between Honduran rebels and government troops in the past 48 hours for mastery of the northern railway section resulted in the death of at least thirty men, in addition to the wounding and capture of scores of others, it was learned today.

Sweeping victories were claimed by the government in three major clashes with Insurrectionists at Olanchito, Chamelecon and Guayemas. In an attack upon the latter town, Colonel Salvador Canales, rebel chief, was killed along with fourteen of his followers. Three federal officers also met death.

Rebels Lose Heavily.

The Rebels met a solid line of Federals in an attempted attack on Olanchito, and lost twelve men. The government forces under Colonel Lopez seized a number of prisoners and enemy baggage.

The clashes caused a momentary disruption of communication with Northern Honduras, but it was believed here the Insurrectionists staked all hope of success on the capture of San Pedro Sula, important railway center forty miles inland from Puerto Cortes. The government was equally determined, however, to retain control of this strategically important region and posted large bodies of troops at all points.

In the opinion of authorities, foreigners in the disturbed region will remain unmolested. American women and children as well as other nationals, have been evacuated from the more exposed inland sections to the coastal cities now well protected by the guns of American naval vessels.

Over Three Hundred Members Of P. S. E. A. Attend Dinner And Dance Wednesday

FIELD CLUB IS PARTY SETTING

Last night while the school children of the entire city were sound asleep, their teachers were making merry in a grand and colorful affair at the New Castle Field Club.

Long, sweeping gowns of flowery design, dancing couples, beautiful rythmic music, palms, ferns, colonial chandeliers—it was truly a memorable event and was enjoyed to the fullest by the over three hundred men and women.

It was the occasion of the annual dinner-dance of the New Castle branch, Pennsylvania State Education Association. The plendid way it was planned, the large crowd, the genuine enjoyment, surpassed any annual affair ever conducted by this splendid organization.

The guests arrived at six o'clock. Everything was in readiness at the attractive club house.

Six-Year-Old Boy Dies In Flames As Home Near Harrisburg Burns Today

HARRISBURG, April 23—Trapped in his burning home in West Fairview, West Shore suburb, six-year old George Geesey was burned today when fire destroyed the building.

The fire broke out in the kitchen of the Geesey home and spread rapidly. Other members of the family escaped, but the boy was apparently forgotten. As firemen arrived, his 60 year old grandmother, Mrs. Emma Geesey, cried:

"George is in there."

Firemen restrained the aged woman from rushing into the blazing building to the lad's rescue. His body was recovered about an hour after the fire.

An adjoining home also was burned to the ground.

Man's Suicide On Coast May Be Clue In Teuber Tragedy

Body Of John Porcellano, 40, Spiritualist, Found Hanging From Tree

METHOD OF DEATH HAS SIMILARITY

Fingernail Scratches On Man's Face May Be Clue In Girl's Death

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Discovery of a similar hanging near here made this city today the center of a search for a possible solution to the death of Louise Teuber, 17, whose unclad body was found hanging from a tree on the outskirts of San Diego last Sunday night.

In a cemetery ten miles south of here, the body of John Porcellano, 40, a spiritualist, was found dangling from a tree under circumstances closely resembling the girl's mode of death.

The body was found Tuesday, but the details were not revealed until the case came under the keen eyes of a woman deputy coroner, Mrs. Luella D. Pepper.

Face Is Scratched.

Apparently, Porcellano had committed suicide by stepping from a box after he attached a rope to his neck and slung the other end over the branch of a tree.

The "Sailor's knot," which figured in the hanging of Miss Teuber, also figures in the man's hanging, Mrs. Pepper reported. The other end of the noose was tied about the tree with half hitches similar to the San Diego case, Mrs. Pepper added.

Mrs. Pepper was struck by one observation in view of the fact that human flesh had been found under the dead girl's fingernails. On the face of the man, she reported, were numerous scratches and gouges as though made by fingernails. Similar marks were noticed on the hands.

Missing St. Louis Doctor Is Hunted By Chicago Police

Mystery Message Says Dr. Kelley Seen Twice In Chicago, Ill.

MAY BE WARNING OF RANSOM DEMAND

No Word Has Reached St. Louis Home Of Doctor Thought Kidnaped

DR. ISAAC D. KELLEY

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 23.—Search was instigated in Chicago today for Dr. Isaac D. Kelley, wealthy physician and clubman, who disappeared from his home in St. Louis Monday night and is believed held by kidnapers.

A mysterious telegram from New York, signed "C. O. D.," received at the Chicago Detective Bureau, indicated Dr. Kelley was here.

Mystery Message

"Dr. Isaac D. Kelley," the telegram read, "was seen on the second floor of a loop hotel and also 140 feet south of Madison on the west side of the street."

Detectives were sent to canvass the hotel and neighboring streets.

Two anonymous telephone calls received by St. Louis police have also stated that the physician was in Chicago, and had come to no harm. Police there were dubious of their authenticity, but said the calls might be preliminaries to a demand for ransom. No such demand has yet been received. Dr. Kelley's wife reported.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 23—Six suspects were being held today in the apparent kidnapping of Dr. Isaac D. Kelley, wealthy doctor and clubman, mysteriously missing from his home since last Monday.

St. Louis county police, who were holding the men, did not indicate they had any evidence against them.

Meanwhile, the wife of the doctor, who was ostensibly lured from his home by a fake call for professional service, reported she had received no demand for ransom.

Pinchot Says Papers Missing

Demands Former Budget Secretary Return Missing Documents

TOWNSEND SAYS HE DIDN'T TAKE ANY

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 23.—Demanding that former budget secretary Arthur P. Townsend return to the budget office a number of documents alleged to have been removed by him at the close of the Fisher administration, Gov. Pinchot today awaited action by the former budget head.

The governor's charge that the records had been removed and his demand for their return were disclosed through publication of a letter sent to Townsend, in which the governor told the former secretary that he would "refer the matter to the attorney general" if Townsend failed to comply with his request.

Townsend, now secretary of the Senate Appropriations committee, informed the governor in reply that the files of the office were complete when he left. In December, he said, a clerk in the office has been ordered to check the files and separate Gov. Fisher's records from those of the office. This was done, Townsend said, and Gov. Fisher's records were put with others and held for further instruction.

The governor's letter stated he had affidavits from budget office employees that Townsend directed the removal of the records and had them transferred to his apartment here.

H. G. Humpem Sons had been in the wholesale grocery business for some years. Recently they acquired a new customer in the person of Ezra Graham, the owner of the largest grocery store in a nearby town. Ezra met the salesman from the Humpem company, and after listening to a few remarks, gave the salesman an order to be delivered about the middle of the month. The goods were delivered as ordered, and on the first of the month a bill arrived. But Ezra made no movement to pay it.

The Humpem firm waited another month and then mildly suggested in a letter that the bill be attended to. Still Ezra paid no attention. At last the Humpem firm sued.

At the trial Ezra admitted that he ordered the goods, and also admitted he had received them, but he charged that the goods were weighed and measured by unsealed weights and measures. One of the Humpems, put on the stand, admitted that Ezra was right, and the case went to the jury.

ments of Governors Stuart, Tenor, Brumbaugh, Sproul, Fisher and under Gov. Pinchot during his first term.

Refuses Political Pledge

The Philadelphia notary stated in her petition that on March 3 last she applied in the regular way for a renewal of her commission. All attendant formalities were complied with, the petition states, except that she refused to subscribe to the so-called political pledge.

As a consequence of her refusal, her petition claims, Stahlnecker returned her application for renewal of the notary commission with a statement that it had been denied.

Miss Hamilton's petition for injunction appended a purported copy of Stahlnecker's letter concerning the refusal to renew her commission.

"I am returning herewith your application and fee for reappointment as notary public," the alleged copy read, "for the reason that you have crossed out part of the eleventh paragraph of the application. "If you desire to be reappointed it will be necessary for you to sign the application without any changes. I am enclosing a new form for that purpose."

Claims It Illegal

In her petition, Miss Hamilton contends that "the requirement to exact such a pledge is wholly illegal and it is not within the power of the defendant, Gifford Pinchot, to exact a political pledge from a proposed appointee as a condition precedent to appointment. The 'policies' referred to in the proposed pledge are the campaign policies of the defendant, Gifford Pinchot, and the purpose and effect in obtaining the said pledge relate to the advancement of his political ambitions and do not relate to the ability or qualifications of the proposed appointees.

Miss Hamilton's suit was brought in the name of an applicant for office while Harding's suit was filed purely as a taxpayer's challenge to the Governor.

First Of Its Kind

The suits were filed through W. S. Bailey, local attorney, acting with Harding and the latter's law partner, Frank S. Busser.

So far as attorneys in Dauphin county could recall, the suits filed today are the first attempt to enjoin a governor since injunction was sought against Gov. Samuel Pennypacker in 1902 in an equity case brought by the Cherryhill Township Water Company.

In that case, however, the court decided the issue on other points and did not pass on the question of whether it is possible legally to restrain a governor by injunction.

Pinchot Refuses Comment

Harrisburg, April 23.—::No comment is necessary upon such a foolish proposition."

That was the sole comment forthcoming today from Gov. Gifford Pinchot when informed by International News Service of the filing of two suits in the Dauphin county court, seeking to enjoin him from requiring notaries public from subscribing to an alleged "Pinchot fealty pledge."

Others named in the suit, State Treasurer Martin, P. S. Stahlnecker, the Governor's Secretary, and Secretary of Property and Supplies James F. Malone had no comment to make.

MOON USES ONE SIDERIAL ORBIT ANNUALLY CATCHING UP WITH SUN

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

The reason for the moon making one more Siderial revolution annually than it does Synodic revolutions is easily understood; The moon does not complete a Synodic revolution until it has caught up with the sun arriving at the same meridian on the celestial sphere with the sun. The moon constantly journeys eastward in its orbit, but the sun also appears to be moving eastward, too. In a month the sun appears to journey eastward 30 degrees while a star appears to stand still. So the moon, in addition to finishing one Siderial month,has yet to overtake the sun to complete a Synodic month. This amounts to one lunar orbit in a year.

Labor Federation Adopts Resolution To Modify Dry Law

Annual State Labor Federation Convention Will Come To End Tomorrow

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 23.—Delegates to the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor today turned their attention to legislative measures which will receive the federation's support, after adopting a resolution calling for modification of the national prohibition law to permit manufacture and sale of 2.75 percent beer.

The resolution was adopted, President John A. Phillips announced, in line with the action of the American Federation of Labor in declaring for manufacture of beer, extension of the medicinal "whiskey privilege" and the "government's tacit consent to manufacture of wine of strong alcoholic content."

Modification of the existent prohibitory laws, proponents of the resolution declared, would restore a vast industry employing many thousands of wage-earners of all callings and so would benefit labor.

Today's session, Phillips said, will be given over to discussion of bills before the legislature and the federation expects to announce which measures it will support and which it will ask to have defeated.

At tomorrow's closing session, the convention will select a convention city for 1932.

TEACHERS HAVE ANNUAL BANQUET

fore long the entire ensemblage could easily be mistaken for a group of revelers of the year 1700.

The ladies pasted "beauty marks" on their faces, black bands on their wrists and around their wigs—all true to colonial history.

Then the banquet. The guests were served at long tables set in the ball room and in the club dining room. Places were indicated by cards received earlier in the evening designating the various tables. The tables were designated by names of Colonial people—such as "Cabot" and "Lee."

Later the program was presented in the ball room. It was a novel presentation and an uproariously interesting one.

Radio Announcer

J. C. Ward of the George Washington junior high faculty, was the radio announcer—(that is, he announced the program through an imitation mike).

First was a piano solo by Miss Mary Long of the senior high faculty. Then a ventriloquist act by Miss Betty Glover of George Washington Junior high, with Miss Helen Lytle acting as the voice of the child on Miss Glover's knee. A reading was given by Nick Cassillo of the senior high school faculty, followed by a playlet in one act, with Miss Ruth Lewis and Miss Geraldine Turk of the Franklin school as the cast.

It was one fine program and was well received by the large audience.

After the program, bingo, 500 and bridge games were started, the orchestra commenced the dance music and the ballroom was quickly filled with scores of dancers.

Prizes were awarded right and left to the bingo and card players. Everyone took part and the hours vanished quickly. Billiards was played by several of the men.

Included in the crowd of teachers and office attendants were several special guests and members of the New Castle school board.

Wigs and ribbons were discarded later in the evening and the crowd was metamorphosed into a gay picture of brilliant modernity.

The success of the event is largely due to the splendid management given it by the committee chairmen and their helpers.

Those In Charge

Miss Helen Grotenfend was general chairman of the entire event. Miss Betty Glover had charge of the entertainment. Miss Emily Saloman was responsible for the lovely colonial decorations. Albert Dodds took care of the tickets. L. C. Black was in charge of the transportation. Miss Nannie Mitcheltree was chairman of the reception committee. Miss Grace Dodson sent out the invitations. Mrs. Arthur B. Foster supervised the dinner arrangements. Miss Doris Davidson was chairman of cards and games.

"The most enjoyable, the best planned event I have ever attended" was the sentiment of all when the midnight hour approached and they motored back to New Castle.

MARINES NOT POLICEMEN

ANOTHER insurgent uprising in Nicaragua with consequent loss of life and property has brought from the department of state at Washington a declaration of policy. It is one Americans in the troubled Central American republic will do well to comply with.

Committed to the early withdrawal of the marines from Nicaragua and taking the position that the native government must put down its own uprisings, Washington will not send an armed force into the interior to disperse the revolutionary forces for the protection of its nationals and their property.

American citizens who go to the sea ports where there are naval and marine forces will find ample protection, and should a body of Americans be besieged in the interior an armed rescue party would be dispatched to that point, but these nationals cannot demand from home protection for property in the interior or for themselves if they persist in exposing themselves to danger.

Americans who invest their capital in foreign countries take a certain risk. Their government can grant some measure of protection, but full responsibility if cannot and is not obligated to assume.

Foreign capital is developing the natural resources of Nicaragua, creating in that little country, what wealth it claims. Therefore, it is to the country's advantage to protect that capital if it can. Uncle Sam cannot play policeman for his Spanish-American neighbors.

MAKES GOOD WHERE CONGRESS FAILED

That the falling off in immigration through American ports was due solely to reluctance on the part of aliens to enter the country because of economic conditions here is a notion dispelled by the report of the state department showing that consular agents refused visas to 96,883 alien applicants in the five months ending with February. In twenty-one European countries whose quotas for the period was 74,233, only 10,277 visas were issued.

The restriction is due to a policy established by the president's power under the "public charge" clause of the immigration laws. By the strict application of the clause the administration has cut immigration to a minimum as a means of relieving the unemployment situation here.

Conditions in the United States are so much better than in most countries that immigrants would flock to America in droves if the gates were opened. A bill to reduce the quotas by ninety per cent was lost in the shuffle of the closing days of congress. The president, through administrative machinery, has cut immigration not only from quota countries but from all countries by eighty-six per cent.

This may be hard on the unemployed in other countries, but the concern of the administration is the unemployed in the United States.

FARMWARD BOUND

For a year at least the nation can cease to worry about dwindling farm populations and the "population trend toward the city." Last year for the first time in a decade or longer the farm population of the United States increased, 208,000 persons being added to the 1929 total. That this was the continuation of a trend it would seem from the fact that the farm exodus had been slowing down appreciably for several years prior to 1930.

This gain is the more astonishing because it was made in the year of the great drought and of some of the country's most disastrous farm surpluses. All in all, it was not an auspicious year for entering upon an agricultural career.

A number of explanations are advanced by the bureau of agricultural economics at Washington. The backward swing of the pendulum may be due to the widespread unemployment in the cities and towns which for years had been luring farmers and farm labor away from the soil. New departures in specialized farming are drawing men an women away from factories and offices, and ex-farmers who have made their pile in the city slowly trek back to the country life.

Good roads, popularization of the automobile, the radio, the telephone, motion pictures and better rural schools certainly have something to do with it.

Some students of the rural scene see in the about-face a swing away from large-scale farming and toward the family-sized farm upon which the nation's agricultural strength was built.

UNDEPORTABLE ALIENS

A curious situation affecting the deportation of aliens is pointed out by W. W. Husband, second assistant secretary of labor. He reports that lack of diplomatic relations with Moscow prevents the United States from sending home Russians who arrive here illegally. Aliens may be deported under warrant only to the countries of which they are citizens, as indicated in their passports, though if rejected at a port of entry here they may be sent back to the port whence they sailed.

About twelve years ago when the United States attempted to deport two insane Russians, Russia refused to take them back. They had returned as far as Germany, and the steamship company thought it wise to leave them there. Consequently they were committed to an asylum in Hamburg, where the United States has since been paying the expenses of their confinement.

In many cases deportation to European Turkey may be as difficult as to Russia, though for different reasons. Turkey's domain was reduced as a result of the war. The present Angora government refuses to receive again to its bosom its former nationals who were resident in that part of the empire now held by others. Greece, which acquired part of this lost territory, also rejects the claimants.

The incidents illustrate that the whims of foreign politics generally operate to Uncle Sam's disadvantage on matters of immigration. Some countries will not exchange treaties of naturalization with us. They resent our exclusion of their subjects, at the same time insisting their subjects here are liable for military duty if the motherland calls.

WHEN YOU DON'T KNOW

"A little knowledge is a dangerous thing," wrote Pope. Much knowledge is a dangerous thing, says an experienced school teacher. Or at least, a pretense of much knowledge.

She advises teachers not to try to give pupils an impression that they are omniscent. As sure as they do, a time will come when the teacher can't answer a question. Then, in the shock of discovering that she doesn't know everything, the pupils may swing to the conclusion that she doesn't know anything.

There is good psychology in this advice, not only for teachers but also for lecturers and speakers in general. Writers, too, perhaps.

It is often wise to say "I don't know." That is definite and straight. Then when the teacher or orator or writer says "I know," his word carries conviction.

Nice Old Ladies
Angry Words
Stray Thoughts

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Young people seem to think they can say anything they want. They ought to be told that that privilege is especially reserved for nice old ladies, who can speak to strangers without being considered rude or presumptuous.

* * *

It is easier for most of us to criticise than to compliment. The words tumble over each other when we are angry; when we wish to praise, they come haltingly forth. In the dictionary there are more synonyms for anger than for joy.

* * *

When Robert Louis Stevenson was only a beginner he wrote this to a friend: "I recognize that I shall never be a great man. I may set myself peacefully on a smaller journey, not without hope of coming to the inn before nightfall." ... That exact knowledge of himself helped Stevenson to endure ill-health, proverty and homesickness many and many a time.

* * *

Almost every man has wished, at least twice, that he'd learned when young to use a straight-edge razor instead of a "safety".... Somehow the bare blade seems more manly.

* * *

I have done many silly things, but I don't think I ever craned my neck to read the name-plate on a coffin on a station platform. It seems to me that the dead, at least, have a right to privacy.

* * *

There comes an hour to every youth or maiden when he (or she) solemnly decides that he is fickle beyond all correction—and will never be capable of a Great Love.

* * *

Debussy, so a musician told me, was never satisfied with one of his compositions until he had worked over it until he had removed every needless note. But Strauss, on the other hand, was not content until he had worked his composition down with melody. But each in his own way brought beauty into this world.

* * *

The fear of danger is not to be compared with the danger of fear.

* * *

You can't make a man angry by accusing him of being a "reckless driver." He will pretend that he's angry, but he's really flattered.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A SATANIC CONTRAPTION

Radio is the only great discovery made since the harnessing of steam and electricity. But unlike the other discoveries radio is lable to create international complications. Russia broadcasts, in the German tongue, soviet propaganda. Germany objects. Russia replies it is done for the benefit of her own German-speaking citizens, and there you are.

And then in our own fair countr-ee. One of Kansas' citizens was stopped from broadcasting his particular brand of reform, so he sold his station, is building one in Mexico to which his Kansas audience can listen in.

Everything man creates is good and bad, may be used or abused and when it gets too bad, it cures itself. In listening to some of the singers supplied to broadcasting advertisers, one wonders if such songbirds are paid or do they pay for the privilege of making the radio owner say, "For land's sake ma, shut the darn thing off."

Just Folks

THE SENTIMENTALIST

His life was gentle—on a summer's day
We walked together, each with stick in hand
When slithering and squirming o'er the land
A snake appeared. I raised my club to slay;
Struck at the reptile; missed; kept up the fray
And started in pursuit He followed, and
Pounded at times the brown grass and the sand
As if he shared my terror and dismay.

The serpent crossed his path. His hand was high
To strike the blow, and then he stepped aside
Let fall the club and said: "If I had tried
I could have killed it, as perhaps I ought
But I was interrupted by a thought.

"I'll swear that as I stood there set to kill
There flashed a curious notion through my mind:
Perhaps this snake has friends who think it kind;
An old and helpless parent who is ill,
Or several small and hungry mouths to fill.
Perhaps if but the truth we two could find
Dead snakes leave endless misery behind
Which humans never sense and never will.

"Stayed by such thoughts I let the reptile flee,
Although I could have stopped it with a blow;
'Kill it!' I heard you plainly call to me.
I spared it! Think me foolish? Maybe so.
Tonight that snake can tell his friends at tea
How cleverly he dodged a brutal foe!"

AGREEABLENESS
By FRANK CRANE

From Kansas City, Mo. Weekly Unity Sept. 29, 1917.

If you are looking for a job it may interest you to hear what is the one quality which employers the world over want most.

It is agreeableness.

Agreeableness is the diamond among virtues, for it is the most precious and rarest of all.

It is worth money: for it sells more real estate, groceries, dry goods, automobiles, typewriters and furniture than any amount of smooth talk and convincing arguments.

Just be pleasant, and you can walk away with a contract right under the nose of the man who knows it all.

Smile! Not once in a while, so that you look like it hurt you when you force a grin. But get the habit. Smile to yourself when you're shaving. Then it will come natural when you use it trying to sell a washing machine.

Be agreeable! And you'll be in demand. For in every walk in life they are crying for the agreeable person.

Every wife wants that kind of a husband. Every husband wants that kind of a wife: children want agreeable parents, the workman an agreeable boss: the boss an agreeable workman and everybody wants agreeable relatives.

We want agreeable hired girls, hotel clerks, motormen, policemen, janitors, icemen, ushers, preachers, governors and bankers.

Come, be agreeable, for you will have but little competition, and are pretty sure to succeed.

An agreeable person lights up the room like a lamp.

He is like the shade of a big tree on a hot day.

He is like a drink of something that tinkles in the pitcher when you're real thirsty.

He is like the love when you're lonesome, bed when you're tired, a breeze when you're stifling, food when you're empty, and money when you're broke.

Be agreeable. Study to make people like you. Make love to the world.

They say anything is possible but I can't see how it is possible for the flappers to wear their skirts any shorter. Still, I'm willing to be shown.

AN ODD FRIEND

My oldest friend is Rev. Betts:
These reasons will suffice:
He never owes me poker debts
Nor plays with loaded dice.

He never brings me phony tips
To play on opening day—
He never buys a stack of chips
And then forgets to pay.

He never borrows five and blows
Then works the busted game—
He never takes my evening clothes
And promptly pawns the same.

The pastor is a king of kings
Although the oddest one!—
He never does the friendly things

Pinchot Effort To Reform State Letters Commended

Public Hopes Change Advocated By Governor Of Pennsylvania Will Extend To Other Parts Of Country And Produce Better Forms Of Correspondence

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania has attracted attention in his effort to remove unnecessary and stupid but traditional phrases from official letter writing under his jurisdiction. Hearty concurrence with the governor's suggestions are recorded but some fear is expressed that in some instances, clerical originality will become subject to a great strain.

"The Governor, being a disciple of the strenuous Col. Roosevelt," suggests the PASADENA STAR-NEWS, "inherits some of the strenuosity of the lamented Colonel, as he goes after the cumbersome, old-fashioned and archaic phrase." That paper agrees that "there was very little diversity in personal letters in the early days of this century, but the coming of the typewriter, evolution of shorthand and perfecting of stenography have brought great changes"; that "the personal letter today, whether on business, or sentimental, or what not, is direct, trenchant and to the point."

"More power to the Governor's big blue pencil and may the movement be more successful than the late Theodore Roosevelt's attempt to simplify spelling," says the HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH, with the advice: "If Governor Pinchot succeeds in taking all the waste words out of State correspondence he may very well extend his reform to business at large. Indeed, it would not be surprising that the elimination of unnecessary words and phrases from all business letters would net a larger saving to the country than the reform which he hopes to bring about in the regulation of utility corporations. Of all the dreary uninteresting collections of verbiage to be found anywhere, the average business epistle is the worst."

"The Governor's protest has been read and contents noted," remarks the ALBANY EVENING NEWS, "and in reply we beg to advise that we are glad that this favor of recent date is at hand and we hope that letter writers will take note thereof. The average business letter and dictated letters in particular are altogether too hackneyed and cluttered with useless phrases like those the Governor mentions. It is a pleasure to receive a letter that is different, that is original in form, that expresses some individuality, a letter that goes to the point without the usual phraseology. If Governor Pinchot can effect this reform in his state maybe it will become nationwide."

"The Governor's campaign," thinks the KANSAS CITY STAR, "if successful, should make his re-election a certainty, provided he desires the post again. But if he will broaden his program to include two other items and can put the whole reform across, the reward should be Mr. Pinchot's elevation to the presidency—not earlier than 1936, which ought to be satisfactory to him. The two to be included—and here is a challenge to Mr. Pinchot—are the damnably reiterated 'same' and 'sell,' the latter used with reference to an idea or project or town. 'Contents of same' or a similar expression is abominable, while men have been urged so often to 'go out and sell this plan to the public' that rebellion and resort to arms soon will be inevitable unless relief is given. In the interest of peace, order, good will and plain, sensible language, something should be done forthwith. The cause demands leadership. The governor seems to have the courage to assume the task."

"While he is about it," comments the CHICAGO NEWS, "he might see what he can do to revive the lost art of private correspondence. Anyway he has appointed a special committee to recommend desirable changes, simplifications and abbreviations in official letters. He would have them courteous, of course, but he insists that they also should display common sense and candor. If they were written in good clear grammatical English the change would be little short of revolutionary. The crusading governor has been well advised in appointing a committee to wrestle wit hthe question. Left to themselves, public officials and employes in public offices would waste more times and more public money than they could possibly save in trying to reform their respective epistolary styles. For they would have to tax their brains, their memories and their vocabularies in efforts to find proper substitutes for the conventional and time-worn expressions. Gov. Pinchot would win fame and lasting honor if he succeeded in revolutionizing public and business letter writing. Even his wars on predatory public utilities and corrupt political machines are holiday affairs compared with that which he has started to effect stylistic and linguistic reforms."

He is approaching the task "like a good forester removing underbrush and dead wood," in the opinion of the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE, which, however, critically examines the purpose of the Pennsylvania effort: "If Mr. Pinchot's young men are going entirely modern it is O. K. with us, but they will have to get along without most of the dictionary. A reason assigned for the Pinchot drive for brevity is to save time. In theory yes; but the stereotyped expressions run on so easily in dictation that it takes more time to remember to omit them than to let them go full tilt. If Mr. Pinchot sets his staff to grappling for laconic style he may have them sitting at their desks for hours on end searching like Sentimental Tommy for the right word. No letters at all might be too brief, though not always. Mayor Gaynor, who was born to write letters, said: 'What is the best way to write things? you ask. Often the best way is not to write them.' If it seems simple to get away from the bromides condemned at Harrisburg, consider the opening of a typical Gaynor letter: 'I thank you for your favor of July 6.'"

"He is encouraging a form of economy which enriches rather than impoverishes declares the COLUMBIA RECORD, with the conclusion: "Why an intelligent person of independent mind will suffer himself to fall into irrationalities and rubber-stamp expression is incomprehensible." The NEW LONDON DAY offer the energetic support of the idea: "These worn-out phrases have for years entered into the general business letter to the disgust of the readers and while some persons have even gone so far as to blame the economic depression onto them, that should be taken with some of the well known Gandhi material. There is no doubt, however, that 80 per cent of the average business letter is pure bunk, bilge, irrelevant trash, wasted lineage, sloppiness, plain verbosity or whatever one may choose to label it. Other matters crying for attention will go unheeded in this latest move to improve the drool of letter writers. Many of us will be glad to see these terms eliminated if only for a few years. If they should be revived mayhap, they would strike us as fresh and original, but just now they certainly are tiresome and may Governor Pinchot scalp a few of them from his own letters and statements."

HAVE FAITH

Most folks have a streak of fear. Perhaps too big a bump of caution, or unpleasant past experiences have transformed a blessing into a curse.

This fear takes different forms; with some it is fear of defeat; with others fear of accident or sudden death or illness or loss of friends.

You are nervous and have to drive in traffic, fear makes your hand shake and your movements uncertain and you bring about an accident yourself.

You take a trip by rail or boat and worry about a possible wreck till you can't sleep and the listening for any unusual noise or motion.

You worry about the health of different members of your family.

When any of them are away from home you are constantly imagining the serious things that might confront them or befall them.

You want to make a change in employment, and though every thing looks as favorable as one could expect, you fear it may be unsuccessful, so hesitate.

In the past you have decided against things that might have been of great benefit to you if you had allowed yourself to do them. You were afraid to make a start.

All the time you are launching successive waves of distrust of yourself or of others and you need to join yourself to some strain of thought that will give you greater courage and faith in your ultimate goal.

PERFECT SAFETY—Fear thou not; for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee, yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness.—Isa. 41:10.

and tell them why you are opposed to the schools adopting daylight savings time.

At a meeting of Chamber of Commerce the members of the Better Business Bureau (Business men of New Castle) almost unanimously voted not to have daylight saving time. This action was taken in view of the facts presented to them by representatives of various groups.

The State of Pennsylvania has a law against changing from Eastern Standard Time, and it is illegal to have Daylight Savings Time.

House Probing Board Resumes

Relation Of Utilities To Politics Will Be Delved Into Today

YOUNG APPEARS BEFORE PROBERS

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 23.—Relation of public utilities to politics in Pennsylvania will be scanned today by the house utilities investigating committee, resuming its probe of the utilities and the public service commission.

The latter topic, particularly relative to its method of fixing valuations, was the one which has held attention of the committee for the past week and which today had brought before the probers testimony that the commission used its own judgment in fixing values of utility properties for rate-making purposes.

Young Makes Statement.

Valuation of the properties of the Scranton-Springbrook Water Company, Commissioner C. H. Young told the probers at yesterday evening's session, was made as a result of conferences of commissioners "around the table." The final valuation of $43,650,000 put on the company property by the commission, the probers were told, was $3,650,080 greater than it should have been.

Testimony of John Fox Weiss, counsel for the commission, led up to the disclosures concerning rate-making. Weiss testified he told the commission he could not defend such a valuation if the case was appealed and was informed by Commissioner James S. Benn he should resign if he could not justify the valuation set by the commission.

Weiss Testifies.

Weiss' testimony was the most disclosing the committee heard.

The counsel, under questioning by Harold Evans, probe counsel, said he was told by Chairman W. D. B. Ainey that a valuation of the Scranton-Springbrook properties to be arrived at would reduce the company revenues $100,000 a year and that later the chairman told him the valuation should be fixed so as to prevent such a drastic income cut which would allow the company to earn the seven percent return usually allowed utilities.

Weiss testifed he argued the valuaton to be set, then fixed at approximately $46,000,000. He was unable to state whether his action had anything to do with the final valuation set.

The commission counsel's testimony created more or less of a sensation on the stand. He followed Commissioner Young, from whom the probers got little information concerning methods followed by the commission in arriving at figures entering into value setting for rate making purposes.

Engineer Appears.

Dr. Herbert F. Snow, chief commission engineer, also appeared before the committee last night and discussed figures used by the commission in setting utility valuations. Snow's testimony largely concerned figures allowed for payment of labor, entering into fixing of values, and committee members commented freely their opinion that his testimony indicated he was attempting to shield the commission from further criticism.

A long list of witnesses was ready for the committee today and it was anticipated the entire day would be given over to the discussion of utilities and their political affiliations.

THEATER BANDIT CHECKED BY GIRL ADMITS HIS GUILT

FRANKLIN, Pa., April 23.—Pleading guilty to a charge of attempted hold-up, Anthony Bielaski, 27, of Oil City, was taken direct from Magistrate Elliot's office to the county jail today.

Bielaski's holdup of the Park Theater here last week was checked by Miss Dorothy McClintock, ticket seller. When Bielaski gained entrance to the place through an unlocked door, thrust a pistol towards her and demanded money, Miss McClintock faced his calmly and said "Don't try to frighten me. You haven't nerve enough to shoot. Now, get out."

Bielaski did, but was caught as he ran across the street. The information against him was filed by Chief of Police Mario Sheffer.

Babe Ruth Tells How He Got Hurt

Tried To Give Charlie Berry Hip To Avoid Injury, But Wrenches Own Hip

(International News Service)

BOSTON, April 23.—"Get me a crutch—a cane. Get me my clothes and let me out of here. What do they think I am, a kid that can't take a rap now and then?"

Such was the impatience today of Babe Ruth to leave Peter Bent Brigham hospital.

"A bad wrench," said the doctors, "but no bones broken."

To his wife, at the bedside, the "Babe" described the incidents preceding his injury.

"I turned third and was coming in fast," said Ruth. "Boy, I must have been moving. Charley Berry's a big boy. If I had hit him the way I was going, we both would have been killed. I turned to give him the hip so neither one of us would be hurt. And there I go and take the worst of it."

Coast Publisher Stands Indicted

Fred Girnau, Publisher Of "Coast Reporter" Jailed In Lieu Of Bail

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 23.—Secretly indicted by the Federal Grand Jury and charged with four violations of the penal code relating to sending objectionable matter in the mails, Fred Girnau, owner and publisher of the "Coast Reporter," was held in jail here today in lieu of $10,000 bail.

The articles which appeared in the "Coast Reporter" and which resulted in the arrest of Girnau purported to show the love life of Clara Bow, film actress, and were based upon affidavits alleged to have been sworn to by the actress' former secretary, Miss Daisy Devoe.

"These stories," declared United States Attorney McNabb, "are obviously a violation of the postal laws."

Several Hundred New Borrowers At Public Library

In that time 286 adult borrowers were added to the list, making a total of 7,286 adult borrowers; and 158 juvenile borrowers were added, making a total of 5,466 enrolled in the junior department.

Judge Chambers Will Speak At East Brook Sunday

The message will be interesting to all members of the East Brook community as well as the young folks.

Revenue Collector Leaves New Castle For New Territory

Hawk Goes To Pittsburgh Office; Woods Will Continue To Work In City

E. O. Hawk, for about seven years U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue in the New Castle territory with headquarters in the Y. M. C. A. building has been assigned to the Pittsburgh office of the government bureau, effective May 1.

Marion S. Woods, former revenue collector here, will continue his duties here in that capacity when Hawk leaves New Castle at the end of this week.

Hawk, whose home is in Kittanning, Pa., has endeared himself to scores of business and professional men and women of this district through his capacity of government agent. His work brought him in contact with leading citizens who will regret his departure from the Y. M. C. A. building wher he made his home for years. In Pittsburgh he will make his residence at the North Side Y. M. C. A. building.

Woods and his family now reside at Wilmington and Euclid avenues.

Early Fruit Crop May Be Menaced

Blossoms In Grave Danger Of Being Blasted As Weather Turns Colder

Early fruit, the blossoms of which have appeared much earlier than usual due to the warm weather this spring, face possible destruction from freezing.

During the past few days, many early peach trees, pears, and the like have burst into full bloom. This morning, the temperature hovered around the freezing point, and a drop of two or three more degrees would be almost certain to cause material damage, while if the weather drops down around 20 degrees, the crop would be entirely destroyed.

Orchardists are anxiously watching the weather, hoping that it will not get any colder than at the present.

"How do you get him to chew his food?"

"I give him Shredded Wheat and it's so crisp he has to chew it—the more he chews it the better he likes it and the more nutriment he gets out of it. Many children bolt down their food without chewing—that means imperfect digestion, poor teeth and unhealthy gums. Shredded Wheat with milk makes a perfect food for growing children, and it's perfectly delicious with bananas or stewed fruit."

The three were arrested last Saturday in Portsmouth, the home of the young woman The men gave their home as Philadelphia.

The woman made a confession to County Prosecutor Julian Snyder, Chief of Police Harry S. Sheets and Chief of Detectives John G. Smith, of Portsmouth, in which she not only admitted that she and the men had collected $25.00 damages from the Youngstown Municipal Railway for a cut on her hand, which was inflicted by one of the men but which they had declared was caused by a broken seat handle, but that money had been collected in varying amounts from street railways in similar manner in Philadelphia, Wilmington, Del.; New York, Providence, R. I.; Boston, Worcester, Mass.; Pittsburgh, Cleveland, and Allentown, Penna.

The cuts, the confession states, would be made by a safety razor blade and then the claim for injury would be made and settlement effected for sums ranging as high as $100.

The supposed accident in Youngstown occurred Friday, March 13, at 10:30 o'clock at night. The operator of the car was notified of the 'accident' at Westlake's crossing and sent the woman and her companion to the South Side unit of the Youngstown hospital where the cut on her hand, requiring five stitches, was dressed. The next morning the woman, giving her name as Alma Lee, and Michael Renaldi stating that he was Thomas Lee, her husband, appeared at the railway office and "settled" for $25.00. The specific charge against James Renaldi involves a similar incident in New Castle, Pa.

Renowned Scientists Gather For Meeting

American Philosophical Society In Annual Convention At Philadelphia

Commemorate Birth Of Franklin, And Plan To Discuss World Problems

By E. L. RAWLEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—World renowned scientists from every section of the 48 states gathered in a little room of the American Philosophical Society building near Historic Independence Hall today commemorating the 225th anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin, scientist, statesman and founder of the ancient society. The occasion too was the 204th annual meeting of the learned organization.

In this tiny room. Almost barren in its simplicity were priceless relics of America's march to modern civilization, while from the walls looked down paintings of Washington, Franklin, Jefferson, Rittenhouse, Wistar and other distinguished members of the society.

Leading Educators

Gathered round the long table, extending almost full length of the room, sat some of the nation's leading educators and scientists. There was Dr. Francis X. Dercum, president and presiding officer, who sat at the head of the table in Franklin's library chair. Nearby was the desk-chair upon whose broad arm Thomas Jefferson wrote the original draft of the Declaration of Independence. The rough script too in the sage of Monticello's hand-writing, with correctons by Richard Henry Lee, Jr., was present for those who wished to see.

Franklin's battery and friction machine, John Fitch's model of a steamboat and the ancient Rittenhouse clock, still keeping time, with the Rittenhouse telescope and transit with which the first of America's noted astronomers recorded the transit of Venus in 1769, filled other corners of the oblong room. Standing or sitting at the table discussing "the changing world" over a nation-wide radio hook-up were: Dr. Arthur M. Compton, nobel prize winner of the University of Chicago, Dr. Wm. Morton Wheeler, of Harvard, Dr. Lee K. Frankel, of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, and a number of other famous scientists together with several radio attendants.

Will Discuss Problems

The meeting was inaugurated at 11 a. m, with the reading by Dr. Compton of a paper discussing "The Assault on Atoms and Molecules." From this somewhat puzzling subject the delegates will switch to varied subjects during the three days of the convention ranging from the subject of the heat produced by a resting horse to discussions of the span of human life, unemployment and intricate questions pertaining to the miracles of electrical engineering.

The annual convention of this oldest learned society in America, has been held here since the founding of the order by Franklin. The building in which the headquarters of the society are located boasts an age of 142 years. From year to year through all this time, grizzled and bespectacled veterans, and most of them are that, have assembled in this same room to chart the progress of mankind. Men famous throughout the world in the early days of our country as well as the leaders of today have either assembled or been members of the organization. The names read like a who's who of America, Washington, John Adams, Jefferson, (who was president of the society for 18 years), Madison, John Quincy Adams, Buchanan, Grant, Grover Cleveland, Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson, and Hoover, are a few of them.

Last year Einstein, Sir Hubert Wilkins, Cyrus H. K. Curtis, and Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, were honored with memberships. This year, election of new members will take place tomorrow. The symposium of these noted scientists will come to a close Saturday night.

Fifty Thousand Acres Burned Over In State

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 23.—The loss of three lives this spring, besides the risk to which many other persons have been exposed, should bring home to the people of Pennsylvania the seriousness of the spring forest fire situation.

To date 1800 forest fires burned over an area of 50,000 acres of forest land. Considering the fact that 99% of these fires were preventable through the exercise of ordinary care, the loss of life, property, and the devastion of land are exhibits of extreme carelessness on the part of many of our citizens. Is the personal responsibility of every community, forest land owner, and citizen to prevent forest fires. Every avoidable forest fire is in itself an accusation against our people's lack of public consciousness. We are too apt to think in terms of our individual interests. Community interests apparently have little weight with us and that can only come from failure to think in community terms.

The prevention of forest fires cannot be accomplished by the Department alone, nor by civic and industrial agencies acting separately. The organized cooperation of all of them is necessary. With full recognition of a dual responsibility confronting the citizens of the State and the Department of Forests and Waters, Secretary Lewis E. Staley asserted that the Department is doing everything within its power to meet the present forest fire situation.

Every one of the 118 steel forest observation towers is being manned day and night, and the entire personnel of the Department is using every resource of attack where the need is greatest. It is humanly impossible to cope with forest fires when carelessness heaps ten fires upon the protective organization of the Department as rapidly as one fire is extinguished. The supposedly innocent brush fire may result in the loss of life, the devastation of thousands of acres of forest land, and a large amount of money expended in its extinction.

Deputy Secretary John W. Keller of the Department is directing the forest fire fighting forces at the present time in the northwestern part of the State, and is right out on the fire line helping extinguish fires. Willis M. Baker, Director of the Forest Research Institute, will do the same kind of work in the Johnstown district. Senior Research H. E. Clepper is in the Anthracite Region assisting in the extinction of forest fires in Schuylkill and adjoining counties. Additional foresters are being sent into other sections of the State to assist the district foresters in handling the forest fire situation.

Secretary Staley has again urged the necessity for prompt extinction and stated that more good can be done on a forest fire during the first hour that it burns than during the ten hours following. The time is here when the people of Pennsylvania must recognize their responsibility to help protect the forests. If we all help prevent fires, few will be started.

Constable Offers Brand New Way To Make His Arrests

Finds Self Without Warrant, Picks Fight With Man Wanted, And Gets Jailed

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 23.—John Muirhead, Mt. Lebanon constable, paraphrased the famous slogan of the Canadian Mounties today when he astonished a crowded courtroom with the recital of a new way to "get your man".

Muirhead had been looking for A. E. Coen for two months on a bad check charge. Last night the constable spotted Coen.

Imagine his embarrassment when he found he didn't have a warrant for Coen's arrest. Embarrassment—but not confusion.

The constable walked up to his quarry, started a fist fight—and landed himself and Coen in jail charged with disorderly conduct.

Muirhead identified himself, was released and returned with a warrant for Coen. The latter was held not only on the bad check charge but also for assault and battery for fighting with the constable.

Children Vote For Fairy Tale They Like Best

Request Story Hour Will Take Place At Final Meeting In Library Friday

Keen interest is being shown by juvenile borrowers from the New Castle free public library in the last story hour period, to be held Friday evening after school.

There will be an especially interesting hour of stories for the children devotees, because of the fact that Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian, has allowed them to choose their own stories.

All this week the boys and girls have been casting their ballots at the library, indicating their favorite story and their favorite poem. When counting up the votes this morning Miss Joyce found that "Tinder Box" is in the lead as far as popularity is concerned, followed closely by "Golden Arm".

"Sleeping Beauty" has come in third in popularity so far and "Little Black Sambo" is fourth.

Last year "Sleeping Beauty" was by far the most requested tale of fairyland when votes were taken.

Miss Joyce will tell two stories tomorrow evening and will read one poem. "Little Orphan Annie", as usual, reigns supreme above all other poems, in the minds of the youngsters, and the votes indicate that that will be the poem read tomorrow night. However, "The Potato Dance" is also coming in strong and may turn out to be the winner.

The voting will continue until tomorrow afternoon and the result will be divulged at the story hour period in the story hour room of the public library.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

"Ought" Is Swear Word —Dr. Myers

Word Commonly Used Called "Profanity Of Saints"

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education
Cleveland College Western Reserve University

There is one word which is very naughty. Sometimes it is morally worse than any other symbol of profanity. Many characters have been ruined by it. By it homes have been wrecked, hearts have been broken, children schooled in crime. On its account good has been hated, loved ones have been despised, and children of best parents made the worst. Because of it children have been turned against their parents and fathers and mothers have died of broken hearts.

The more conscientous parent are, the more prone they are to use this word. It is the choice profanity of saints, and some of us who are not so good employ it.

Ought is the word. It is employed in many modes with shou as the most common synonym. In the negative form it occurs as ought not, or should not and in their many variations.

The Founder of Christianity warned us that we shall give an account of every idle word. This word is not almost always idle: it is an encumbrance, frequently a curse.

* * *

We use the word when we feel most self-righteous, when we try to make our children feel least so. Rarely do we utter it for any purpose than to make ourselves feel better. When we are reasonable we know very well that it does not move the child to do as the word suggests. Almost always when we say ought or should to the child he is least ready to comply. Generally it renders the hearer less co-operative, or makes him like us less, makes him lose self-respect, and feel irritable or depressed. When you and I use it in speaking to our children we almost never expect it to bring results which its utterance indicates. We just say it to make ourselves feel better. Our pleasures then become our children's pains.

* * *

To illustrate, I observed myself using the word recently on the way to Sunday school. I said to my boy of eight, "You should not read the comic strip while the automobile is running. It is hard on your eyes." Naturally, he kept on reading. I felt a little disgusted with him that he did. Yet I knew very well that he would before I had made the remark, and he doubtless was much irritated by his father's words. He also knew that he would keep on reading since I had not uttered a command nor afforded him sufficient urge to discontinue reading. The rest of the family group were also annoyed. But he had been allowed to read the comics before in the car on the way to Sunday school.

Why did I say what I did? We had a guest with us—a child expert, who asked the lad how he read while the car was going. That remark, particularly by that person, pricked my conscience. Here I was, a child expert, and Mrs. Myers a similar specialist, too, with my child exercising very bad eye hygiene. I came to our defense, saying what I did. It was the most natural thing to do, yet about the most stupid.

Have you ever done such things? Of course you have. You know as well as I know that ought is a naughty word: and we also know that it will slip out when we are not watching. But I am sure I have cursed with it less often since I recognized and labeled it profanity. Twenty five years from now I hope to have almost abolished ought and should from my vocabulary. Of course, I may be optimistic.

Bell Telephone Company Gives Demonstration Of How Talking Pictures Are Made

A large and intensely interest group of men was in attendance last evening at the April meeting of the Men's Club at Trinity Episcopal church held in the guildroom of the church.

The program of the evening consisted of a demonstration of the methods employed in the making of talking motion pictures by representatives of the Bell Telephone Co.

This included the showing of four films in which was shown the latest up to the minutes methods employed in the manufacture of talking pictures and allied industries. The films shown were "Outward Sound Begins," "What Country, Please?" "Flying Telephone" and "The Family Album." In connection with the pictures, Milton J. Spangler, district salesmanager of Bell Telephone Company gave an interesting instructive talk on the subject under consideration.

The demonstration not only showed what has been done in the matter of conveying sound not only in talking pictures, but by radio, also what has been done to aid medical science and other human efforts of importance and also showed future possibilities of the many inventions which are based largely on the telephone.

W. J. Tomer, district manager of the Bell Company was present. The operation of the motion picture and R. M. Luther and J. E. Wyman.

L. J. Lewis, president of the Men's Club, presided at the business session of the club and named H. K. Bell, W. B. Howe and L. W. Strayer as a nominating committee to report at the annual dinner meeting of the club to be held May 13.

Rev. P. C. Pearson, rector of the church, also addressed the gathering and expressed the appreciation of the Men's Club and himself for the demonstration given and also told of the coming song festival to be held May 14 by the choirs of the churches of the Mahoning and Shenango Clericus in Trinity church.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute.

Great Work Is Being Done By International Institute Of This City

Foreign Branch Of Y. W. C. A. Works Through Over 160 Agencies In Past Year

Some conception of the vast extent of work being carried on in the International Institute of New Castle, may be secured by the statistical report of the past year, made out by Miss Emma B. Moore, executive secretary. This Institute, a branch of the Y. W. C. A., confines it's activities with foreign born and foreign speaking women and their families.

Co-operating with the Traveler's Aid, the International Institute met 21 people at the railroad stations, etc., giving them what information and help they needed.

Immigration problems of 16 people were taken charge of by the Institute.

Medical visits numbering 114 were made through the International Institute and 47 legal visits in the interest of foreign born people were made.

The report also shows that 581 visits were made by the Institute staff members and committee women to employers and employees. These interviews helped greatly to secure work for women who would otherwise have been destitute.

Number of club meetings of nationality people held during the past year was 111, with a total attendance of 1528. Three outstanding social events took place, with a total attendance of 350.

Only through untiring work and through the earnest help of a large number of cooperating agencies in New Castle and points over the entire nation was all this splendid work accomplished. One hundred sixty-one agencies helped in one way or another, in the International Institute work. All this work was made possible through the Community Chest.

United States To Recognize Regime Set Up In Spain

Official Recognition Will Be Given Spanish Republic By United States

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 23. — The United States today recognized the new Republican Government set up by the residents of Spain following King Alfonso's flight from the country last week, the State Department announced.

This action followed the course taken by France, Belgium, Great Britain and Germany, France being the first world power to effect diplomatic relations with the new republic.

Irwin B. Laughlin, American Ambassador in Madrid, was delegated to notify the officials of the new Spanish regime that the United States had accorded it recognition.

Religious Drama Tourney To Close

Three Plays To Be Presented As Conclusion At High School Tonight

New Castle's first religious drama tournament will be brought to a close when tonight in the senior high school auditorium Temple Israel Congregation will present "Prayer in Picture," the Central Presbyterian church will present "The Golden Rule in Courtship" and the First Congregational church will present "The Valiant."

The plans for the religious drama tournament got under way in January when meetings were held to explain and plan for the project. During the period of planning nine churches became actively interested in the project and set to work to prepare their one act religious dramas. The first three were presented on April 9; the second three on April 16; the final presentations will be given tonight.

The purpose of the tournament has been to promote a type of drama which is educational, cultural, and at the same time entertaining. Those who have witnessed the plays thus far are prepared to state that they have been spiritually exalted and that the drama tournament has achieved its purpose along this line.

Certainly the tournament has brought to the mind of the New Castle public that there is some very good dramatic talent in our city's churches and that this talent knows how to give meaningful religious expression through the medium of dramatics.

Beginning at 8:00 p. m. tonight and continuing until the curtain rises at 8:15, the Ben Franklin junior high school orchestra under the direction of Miss Eva Coulter will give a concert. Miss Coulter has kindly consented to have her orchestra play between the various plays on the program.

Tonight's program as the final one in this experiment of religious dramatics in New Castle promises to be fittingly effective. The audience will surely depart, feeling that the whole project has been worth the time and effort expended upon it by those groups and individuals who have made it possible.

Mrs. C. A. Finley Of Pittsburgh Makes Report On State Forest

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 23.—A resolution to proceed with plans for a Daughters of the American Revolution State Forest in Pennsylvania was unanimously passed without debate at the State Conference, Mrs. Charles A. Finley of Pittsburgh, Chairman of the D. A. R. Committee on Conservation and Thrift, reported to the fortieth Continental Congress of the D. A. R. here today in her survey of the work done in Pennsylvania during the year ended March 31.

A total of $285 was voluntarily contributed at the meeting toward the State Forest, she said, and the Quaker City Chapter started the fund.

One Philadelphia Chapter raised money to plant a magnolia grove around the Chapel at Valley Forge and Memorial Trees on Independence Square. During the year a total of $93.20 was given to the Veterans Bureau.

Pennsylvania is among the States enthusiastic over the George Washington Tree Planting Program, Mrs. Finley said.

Two trees will be planted in honor of Mrs. Herbert A. Arnold, late State Chairman of the D. A. R. Committee on Conservation and Thrift, who died on January 31, it was reported to the Fortieth Congress of the D. A. R.

THERE IS A STRENGTH

In a clear conscience that no money can provide.
In the confidence of a little child than no man ever fully appreciates.
In the knowledge of being right that nothing else can ever furnish.
In a possession of the facts that no blusterer ever knows.
In honor that always mystifies the deceiver.
In the knowledge of having done one's best that no reward ever increases.
In sincerity that enables one to face time without fear.

Asks $100,000 In Suit For Slander

Attorney Henderson Seeks Large Sum From Prosecutor Thomas

LATEST TURNS IN YOUNGSTOWN CASE

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 23.—Sensational turns in the dynamic political - judicial - utility situation here today found Attorney Andrew M. Henderson with a suit on file asking $100,000 damages against County Prosecutor Ray L. Thomas, charging slander, and an announcement that Bert C. Woods for 20 years claim agent for the Ohio Edison Company and a witness in the jury-fixing investigation, had resigned.

Henderson's action was a retaliatory measure to the disbarment proceedings Thomas filed against him and Common Pleas Judges David G. Jenkins and J. C. Lyons. Henderson avers in his suit that the charges made in the disbarment petition are untrue and were made with malice to humiliate and disgrace him. He asserts Thomas knows the charges are untrue and cannot be substantiated.

Henderson says that Thomas' action was an attempt to injure his law practice and his standing in the community as an upright citizen and member of the bar for 25 years.

Announcement that Woods, chief claim agent, had resigned, came from C. F. McCalla, official of the utility concern, who said the action was voluntary. Wood made no statement to the press.

Further pleadings, attacking the recent attempts of common pleas court judges to disqualify Thomas, are expected to be filed by the prosecutor within a few days. Thomas has already countered the judges' action by asking for the disbarment of Henderson, Lyons and Jenkins, and by obtaining an injunction from the Ohio supreme court which held that a prosecutor should be given a hearing before he is disqualified. April 29 is the date set for this hearing.

Thomas charged the two judges and the attorney with unjustifiable relations with public utility concerns.

The Stock Exchange annex will be 400 feet high. It will be nice to have something in that region up to 400.

The Rise And Fall Of The House Of Bourbon

NUMBER FOUR

Alfonso XIII, born after his father's death, came of age in 1902. Married Princess Ena of Battenberg in 1906.

When his abdication was considered Alfonso was firm. "I shall die a king," he said simply.

With outbreaks general throughout the land he finally abdicated and fled Spain, the last of the reigning Bourbons.

With Napoleon's overthrow Ferdinand VII returned to Madrid and re-established the Bourbon dynasty.

During an insurrection in 1868 in which a provisional government was established, Queen Isabella fled to France.

Alfonso XII proclaimed king in 1874 and Bourbon power once again ruled the throne of Spain.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth and last of a series of articles on the Bourbon royal family, giving the background of the Bourbon kings down to the recent abdication of Alfonso XIII, of Spain.)

Written For Central Press
By FRANK McLEARN

With the crown in the hands of the Bonapartes in the person of Joseph, brother of Napoleon, affairs of the Bourbons in Spain were in a sorry state. Deserted by their rulers, the Spanish people organized resistance and declared for Ferdinand VII. They aided the English armies in the field in Spain during the Peninsular war in which the great Napoleon was shown to be not so invincible as was first thought.

With Napoleon's overthrow Ferdinan VII returned to Madrid and re-established the Bourbon reign.

Spain had lost her colonies in the new world and liberal movements within the nation had materially weakened the power of the Bourbons.

Ferdinand died in 1833, leaving the throne to his daughter, Isabella, as he had no male heir. This was brought about by the revival of an old law admitting female succession. With Queen Maria Christina acting as regent, a struggle for a liberal constitution began. Outbreak after outbreak followed, leading to an insurrection in 1868 in which a provisional government was established and Queen Isabella fled to France.

Several foreign princes were invited to take up the crown, among them Prince Leopold of Hohenzollern, whose candidacy in a measure provoked the Franco-Prussian war. In 1870, a son of King Victor Emmanuel, of Italy, accepted the crown, but abdicated in 1873, when a republic was declared. With all forces, conservative and liberals at odds, internal warfare was general throughout the country until 1874. In December of that year General Martinez Campos proclaimed AlfonsoXII, son of Isabella, king and the Bourbon power was re-established once again. Alfonso, although only 17 years of age, assumed the throne in 1875. He was the father of Alfonso III, whose recent abdication stirred the world.

Alfonso XII, under the guidance of Canovas del Castillo, established order once more, at first through reactionary measures, but toward the close of his reign turning more liberal.

He died in 1885 and his widow, about to bear a child, was named regent. So on May 17, 1886, Alfonso XIII was born, following the death of his father, and destined to be the last of the reigning Bourbon princes of the world.

Before Alfonso was of age Spain had entered into war with the United States, in which she relinquished her sovereign in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. Alfonso came of age in 1902 and the regency was terminated. In 1906 Alfonso married the British Princess Ena of Battenberg, a granddaughter of Queen Victoria of England. In the following year in heir to the throne was born and christened Alfonso.

Spain remained neutral during the world War, but internally she was seething.

The national, which had earlier joined France in the handling of the Moroccan question, suffered reverses at the hands of the Riffs and counted heavy losses in money and in men. The king was blamed for misdirecting the military campaign. The nation cried out for reform. A dictatorship was established. It could not, however, cope with the rising republican tide, and was withdrawn, after having brought Alfonso XIII into further disrepute. A milder one followed, but brought no relief.

Abdication was considered, but Alfonso was firm. "I shall die a king," he said.

The opposition, however, was too strong. Elections revealed the country preponderantly anti-monarchial. With riots breaking out through all of Spain, Alfonso finally relinquished the throne, fleeing the country with the royal family.

Thus the rule of the Bourbon princes has come to an end in Spain. Alfonso becomes last of the reign-in Bourbons who started on the road to power in Europe just 1,000 years ago.

James K. Pollock Goes To Capitol By Senate Request

Senate Committee To Discuss Proposed Election Law Act That He Has Prepared

Residents of this city, and especially his friends, will be interested in learning that Prof. James Kerr Pollock, member of the faculty of the University of Michigan, and a native of this city, who has been making a special study of elections, not only in this country, but in Germany and other countries of Europe, is now considered an eminent authority on such subjects and his standing and ability has been recognized by the United States Senate committee, which has been investigating campaign funds.

He has been invited by that committee to appear as an expert witness and is scheduled to go to Washington, D. C., in that capacity on May 4. Prof. Pollock prepared a new proposed federal corrupt practices act at the request of the committee and has now been called to th capitol to discuss the matter with the committee.

Prof. Pollock has been studying the problem of the use of money in elections for several years, both in this country and in Europe and it is the knowledge gained in this study that has resulted in his gaining such prominence as to be called to confer with the United States Senate committee.

He just recently served in Michigan on the Governor's Commission on the revision of the election laws of that state.

Missouri ex-service men would be permitted to hunt and fish without licenses under terms of a bill before the legislature.

Jubilee Singers In Plantation Songs

Dibble Party Singers To Give Unusual Program Saturday Night

Unusual musical treats are planned for the final nights of the meetings conducted by Dr. Dibble and his party. The Jubilee Singers are fast becoming very popular and crowds are gathering to hear them sing. They will be singing tonight and Friday night at the Epworth church in connection with a fine evangelistic service, Mrs. Dibble bringing the message.

Saturday night they are to put on one of their famous Chautauqua and Lyceum Plantation programs. They will be dressed in old time slave costume and will sing the happy, Southern folk songs which were so popular in the years gone by. The first half of the program will be composed of group singing and the second part will be solos and readings and the like from these talented singers. In an effort to seat the people this program will be presented in the First Baptist church, Dr. Landis pastor. It will begin at 7:30. There will be no admission charge but an offering will be received. Everybody cordially invited.

Hospital Charity Cases

During March—last month—236 patients were admitted to Jameson Memorial Hospital. An average of 84 patients a day were cared for. In all, 2611 patient days of care were administered.

769 (26%) of these hospital patient days of care were given free of all charge—charity. An additional 366 new-born baby patient days of care were given for which no charge is made.

Through the Pennsylvania State Welfare Department, the hospital will be reimbursed to the extent of $3.00 per day for 333 of these charity patient days. The maintenance cost approximates an average of $5.00. There is an indicated loss, therefore, of $2.00 per day on 333 patient days and $5.00 per day on the remaining 436 charity patient days—an aggregate of $2846.00 operating loss for March, in care of charity patients. And whose business is to to consider these facts? What is to be done about it? Should liberal use of the community hospital for charity patients be discontinued? No right-minded thinking could justify such policy. Should more support come from the state? Certainly—but only to the extent of $3.00 per diem. Should quality of hospital care be trimmed down—adjusted—to revenue? Not while we hold in our hearts the thought that the best we humans know how to do is none too good in our ministry to the sick. Organized, purposeful, systematic community support is the answer. Community hospital business is the business of all the people of the community.

Old-Time Horseshoein' Revived At Harlansburg

Shades of the brawny backsmiths working over their roaring furnaces while long lines of horses wait to be shod.

Such a scene, unfamiliar in this modern day of the automobile and the concrete roadway may be found any Wednesday at the old Eppinger shop in Harlansburg where farmers for miles around take their horses to be shod by initerant blacksmiths.

Blacksmithing is being revived in a big way. And if you ask the blacksmiths—the few that still do that work—they will inform you that horses are again coming into their own on the farm and that blacksmithing is not a lost art.

A new hitch has become known in the work. The blacksmith must come to the farmer. Automobiles and hard roads made it possible for farmers to take their horses to the shops of the shoers.

Each Wednesday Bill E. Marquis, veteran New Castle horseshoer, and Morrie Fulkerson of Pulaski, another old-time smithy, arrive at the Eppinger shop to shoe horses as they did in years of old.

Yesterday, in only a few hours' time they drove 36 shoes amid the loud encouragement of the assembled farmers. What some have nearly regarded as a lost ar' is being revived to life again by the smiths who have not forgotten their years of experience. They believe horseshoein' will never die. Trucks and tractors may do considerable work on a farm, but the reliable work horse will never be displaced, they observe.

Twelve Hundred Attend Annual Spaghetti Dinner

Fifteenth annual spaghetti dinner for the benefit of St. Vitus parish held Wednesday evening in the dining room of the Cathedral, was one of the outstanding successes in the history of such events.

In spite of the exceedingly bad weather conditions, a throng of approximately 1200 attended and thoroughly enjoyed the fine dinner of spaghetti and other Italian food delicacies prepared and served by the ladies of the church.

The affair was held under the auspices of the five Catholic societies of St. Vitus church and under the general supervision of Rev. Fr. N. DeMita, pastor of the parish. Nothing was left undone to make it a most pleasant occasion and those in attendance were unanimous in the expression of their appreciation of the dinner and entertainment provided.

Serving of the dinner started at 6 o'clock and continued until after 8 o'clock. The many tables attractively decorated with cut flowers were in charge of ladies of the parish, who had as their assistants 120 young ladies of the parish. All were attractive in a uniform dress of white.

During the serving of the dinner, Peter P. Capitola assumed charge as toastmaster and called upon Angelo J. Casacchia, who expressed in appropriate language the appreciation of the pastor and members of St. Vitus parish of the cooperation extended them in putting on this affair by all the people of the city.

He expressed the opinion that it was in such events that a better sense of fellowship is inaugurated between all the peoples making up the community and inaugurates an era of better understanding and breaks down artificial restraints that tend to disunite the people of any community. He concluded by saying that it was well that all should be united and move with one accord for the advancement of our country's aims and ideals. His remarks were received with great enthusiasm.

Featuring the dinner hour was the music furnished by the 20-piece orchestra in charge of B. J. Biondi and Judy Sypher. The program of vocal selections presented was of an unusually high order.

The numbers included the following: "Dawn" by Andrew DiLorenzo, "Nobody Cares If I Am Blue" by Genevieve Thomas, "On the Road to Mandalay" by Francis DiSanctis, "Please Don't Talk About Me When I'm Gone" by Rose Toscano, "Rimpianto" and "Torna A Surriento" by Mrs. Mabel Mastrangelo and accordion selections by James Copple. Miss Helen Johnston acted as accompanist to a number of the soloists. The program was presented by a committee of which Frank Colao was chairman.

The dinner was followed by a dance, which continued from 8 to 12 p. m. The dance was under the auspices of a group of Italian-American young men and was a very successful part of the evening, several hundred people participating. The dance program was excellent as presented by the orchestra.

Progressives To Fight Modifying Anti-Trust Laws

"Big Business" Will Seek Modification Of Sherman And Clayton Acts

RASKOB SCORED FOR SUGGESTION

President Hoover Will Oppose Moves To Liberalize Anti-Trust Laws

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 23.— With the regulation of huge corporation combines likely to become an issue in the 1932 presidential campaign, the progressive group on Capitol Hill today laid plans to fight all efforts to modify anti-trust laws in the next Congress.

"Big business" will seek a modification of the Sherman and Clayton Acts, which govern corporations engaged in interstate commerce according to report. The plea probably will be that the economies effected by coordinated business organizations are necessary to overcome existng economic depression. Regardless of the reasons assigned, the progressive group will battle every effort to lessen federal regulation of corporations.

Raskob Scored

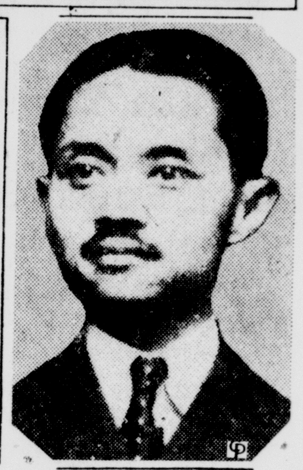

The issue has far-reaching political significance. Only recently, John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman, suggested the legalization of huge corporative combinations if they secured the approval of the Federal Trade Commission. He was roundly attacked by liberal-minded Democrats as well as Republicans for sponsoring this proposal.

On the other hand, President Hoover apparently has discarded the Coolidge administration's plan of "looking over" corporative mergers in advance and helping corporations to combine in accordance with existing law. This work was handled by former Assistant Attorney General William J. Donovan but on his retirement to private life, the policy was abandoned. In recent speeches, Attorney General William D. Mitchell pleaded for strict enforcement of the Anti-Trust laws. These developments have indicated the president will oppose a liberalization of the Sherman and Clayton Acts.

Leesburg Church To Observe 75th Anniversary Sunday

REV. W. A. LLOYD

LEESBURG PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Sunday, April 26, 1931, will be an occasion of outstanding importance in the history of the Presbyterian church at Leesburg and the congregation and its friends, will on that date observe the 75th anniversary of the organization of the congregation, with appropriate services.

Special Services.

The special services will start with the Sabbath school hour, which is 10 o'clock, and continue throughout the afternoon and evening, services of special interest being held at these times.

Permanent organization of the congregation was effected April 26, 1856, with 13 original charter members. Two of these members, Messrs Robert Stevenson and William Rice, were that day elected ruling elders and installed. They had been ordained previously in the churches from which they came.

From the small beginning 75 years ago, the church has grown until now it has a membership of 272. The ministry of the church is not confined, however, to the membership, but touches the lives of a thousand people, who live throughout the surrounding country side. As a rural church, it is not losing its strength but is growing stronger.

The Leesburg Presbyterian church is the only church in the community at present, since disbanding of the United Presbyterain church last June, and seeks to minister to every need of those about it.

First Church.

The first church building was a frame meeting house built in 1856 on a plot of ground purchased from McClain Thorn and located just off the Volant road, and on the Perry highway. This building was enlarged about 1875.

Within a few years the congregation outgrew this structure and during the ministry of Rev. Sherman A. Kirkbride, who is now pastor at large in the Shenango and Beaver presbyteries, a beautiful structure was built on a plot of ground just east of the Perry highway. This building was of pressed brick veneer and of ample proportions.

The early morning of September 22, 1928, will not soon be forgotten by the people of the Leesburg community, for it was at that time this beautiful church was reduced to ashes by fire.

Rev. Lloyd, Pastor.

The members were loyal and courageous and determined to rebuild on the same site. Under the leadership of the present pastor, the Rev. William A. Lloyd, who had received a call from the congregation shortly before the fire, and who, with his family, arrived upon the field October 4, the work was soon begun.

The new church building was dedicated November 16-17, 1929. It is of English style architecture and is of mingled Castle Rug brick. A basement is under the entire building, with modern equipped kitchen and heating plant. Several Sabbath school rooms are on the first floor, and when the large doors between these and the auditorium are thrown open, there is a seating capacity of 300. This beautiful building, which cost with the furnishings, over $26,000, is a standing monument to the faith of a people who would not know defeat.

All are cordially invited to attend the services next Sabbath and renew old friendships. That none may be over-burdened with work, dinner will not be served at the noon hour, but a committee will serve coffee free of charge to those who bring their lunch and desire to eat in the basement, where there is ample table accommodations. In the evening, however, the church will serve a lunch at a small charge.

Harmony Route To Be Inspected

Last Car Runs On Short Line — No Decision On Ellwood-New Castle End

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 23.—Piloting of a car from Etna into the Mars barn last midnight ended the useful 25-year service career of the Pittsburgh-Butler Short Line.

Inroads by auto bus lines and the ravages of time will also thrust into oblivion the Short Line's companion route, the Harmony trolley line between Pittsburgh and Butler, David I. McCahill, president of both lines, predicted.

Maurice R. Scharff, under whose receivership both lines have been operating, said he had made no plans for any changes or discontinuance of service on the Harmony route, which extends also to Ellwood City and New Castle.

H. D. Hirsh, attorney here for the public service commission, stated he would ask for an immediate survey of the Harmony line by commission engineers to determine whether it is safe for traffic. Hirsh's decision to act was said to have followed assertions by McCahill that serious structural weakness had been found.

NEW YORK, April 23.—This being the age of set-back sky-scrapers and queer-angled chairs, it is quite natural that the square-egg frying pan should make appearance. It is being sold in all the smarter furnishing shops in New York for those who feel the need of a more modernistic touch to the berakfast table than that imparted by the conventional fried egg with the round, zigzag edges.

TAKING THINGS EASY.

The average hotel guest labors under the impression that when packing for departure there exists no moral barrier to his including among his effects any portion of the equipment of his room that strikes his fancy.

Recently a mid-town hotel guest cooly informed the management that it had always been his custom to take one of the bedsheets with him when he left to wrap his soiled linen in and that he had removed sheets from practically every worth-while caravansarie in the land.

Most hotel bedsheets are said to wholesale somewhere around $2 and with rooms listed at from $3 to $5 single, per night (with a $2 bedsheet thrown in), the profit side of the business would soon feel the shock of a concerted habit of this kind.

TEMPUS FUGIT.

At another hostelry in town a female guest fell in love with a banjo clock in her room, packed it in her trunk and took it away with her. One of the maids reported the absence of the clock and the hotel wrote the woman about it.

"Send it back?" she wired. "I should say not. I like it and intend to keep it. Send me a bill, if you must."

In a few days she mailed a check for $49.50, the price the hotel paid for the clock.

DECLINE INVITATION.

Bed lamps are packed away in trunks, books taken from the library, inkwells, glass desktops, even wastepaper baskets and in one instance an entire telephone handset.

Ushers looking under the seats at Town Hall one afternoon, following a concert, picked up a silver fish-fork bearing the name of a famous Park Avenue restaurant.

The management inserted a notice in the newspapers the following day informing the woman who had dropped the fish-fork that it would be returned if she'd apply at the box office.

Strangely enough no one ever claimed it.

AN UGLY SHACK.

The Daily News Building, called "a monstrous pile, vicious in its pretended nakedness," prompted the following from the architect, Raymond M. Hood:

"There is no dogma, architectural or otherwise, about the building. There is no modernity about it, unless it be that it strives to satisfy the people who tenant it, in preference to those who do not. It is neither a challenge to the future, a record of our civilization, a message to posterity nor any new development in the theory of architectures. It is a building that will doubtless be torn down in twenty years or so. ...."

In the meantime, gol darn it, we all got to look at it. And that often prompts the wish that more of our modern architects were prompted by the spirit which actuated gentlemen of that profession in ancient Greece.

It wasn't their love of beauty that distinguished their art, so much as their hatred of ugliness.

SOUL-ACHE.

Old Doc. Rosenblueth told the American Societies for Experimental Biology, the other day, of a discovery he had made, namely, that the thing we call "the soul" is situated in the smooth muscle which has its place in the intestinal tract and in the walls of the blood vessels thereof.

The next time you get a tummy ache, flip a coin. Heads, you call the doctor. Tails, the minister.

MIGHTY TRUTH.

Dan Frohman, dean of theatrical producers, is authority for the statement that "the American drama needs good authors more than anything else."

All of which is true with respect to the British drama, the French, Italian, German, Chinese and the Scandanavian drama.

As Bill Nye used to say: "Nothing contributes more to the success of a fountain, than water."

SPEED.

Motion picture editors are quick on the trigger these days. A New York publisher announced a forthcoming volume in the first mail one morning last week. By 11 a. m. four motion picture agents had phoned asking for manuscript, galley proofs or synopsis of the story.

Three Have Lucky Escapes As Plane Is Forced To Land

Phil Ball, Owner Of St. Louis Browns And Two Others Have Narrow Escapes

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 23.—Phil Ball, owner of the St. Louis American League baseball club, who narrowly escaped injury last night when the plane in which he was riding made a forced landing on a farm near Hickory, south of here, planned to continue his trip to Newark today.

Lloyd McCoy, St. Louis manufacturer, and Frank T. Dunn, also of St. Louis and pilot of the plane, likewise escaped injury although one wing, landing gear and the propoller of the six passenger cabin monoplane were smashed in landing.

Dunn ascribed heavy snow squalls which swept this section as the cause of the crash. In making the landing, Dunn said, he was unable to see the field until within twenty feet of earth.

Supreme Court To Consider Appeal By Ohio Gas Co.

Gas Company Appeals Ohio State Court Decision Upholding Excise Tax

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The supreme court will take under consideration late today the appeal of the East Ohio Gas Co. from a decision of the Ohio state supreme court upholding an excise tax against its receipts from the sale of natural gas. The tax averages about $500,000 yearly.

The gas is purchased in the fields in West Virginia and Pennsylvania and is distributed to consumers in Cleveland, Youngstown and other Ohio cities through pipe lines without any stoppage of flow.

William B. Cockley, representing the company, declared the gas in question becomes a commodity of interstate commerce and Ohio's tax is unconstitutional.

Attorney General Bettman of Ohio argues the tax is legal. When the gas is distributed to consumers in the state, he said, it is subject to local taxes.

John Willman Is Dead At Sharon

"Uncle John" Willman, Known To Scores Of Prominent Men Called By Death

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., April 23.—John Willman, 72—"Uncle John" to Sharon's youth—died today following an operation.

His death brought memories to a score of men, now prominent in Pennsylvania's political and industrial life, of a spick and span barbershop conducted by "Uncle John" before his retirement.

It was in "Uncle John's" shop that U. S. Senator James J. Davis learned the humble act of shining shoes. That was in the days before Davis gained the cognomen, "Puddler Jim", as a husky youth in the local steel mills.

"Uncle John" was a firm believer in the old fashioned virtues of integrity and thrift—and he taught those virtues to the urchins who flipped the shoe-shine rags in his barber shop.

At least a score of men, who have gained success since their matriculation, course and graduation in "Uncle John's Shop," were started on the road to that success at the shoe-shine stand in the little barber shop.

Case Against Theatre Owner Is Turned Down

Mercer County Grand Jury Returns "Not A True Bill" In Farrell Case

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., April 23.—The grand jury last night made a return in the cases before it for consideration. True bills were returned in 31 cases and "not a true bill" in one case.

The case in which not a true bill was returned was that of J. C. Skinner, negro, against a Farrell theater proprietor, in which he charged that he was discriminated against by the theater owner, who sold him a ticket for the gallery and afterwards sold tickets to the lower floor to others.

The jury sought instructions from Judge James A. McLaughry in the matter and he ruled that the theater proprietor was compelled to sell a ticket in a case like this but he had the privilege of designating where the ticket should call for a seat.

Stadium Reflectors Visible From Hills

The huge reflectors, to which new ones were being added today, could probably be seen from other hills in the city.

McBride Post Plans Annual Sale Of Poppies

Money Realized From Poppy Day Sales Goes Entirely To Relief Work

SALE ENDORSED BY NATIONAL CLUBS

Preparations are now going forward for the annual Buddy Poppy Day, which will be held during the latter part of May by the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The sale of these poppies, made by disabled veterans in the U. S. hospitals, is conducted each year by the Harry L. McBride Post, in conjunction with other V. F.W. organization throughout the country, as a means of raising funds for the relief of their more unfortunate comrades, who are unable to carry on.

One hundred per cent of the proceeds of this sale goes for relief work, the Veterans of Foreign Wars being the only veterans organization which insists that every penny raised for relief work by this poppy sale be devoted entirely to this purpose.

Disabled Vets Busy.

For the past several months, disabled veterans in government hospitals have been making these Buddy Poppies at the rate of approximately 50,000 per month, A. F. Miller, who is chairman of the committee in charge of this year's Poppy Day sale here, states.

"Despite the fact that a large number of needy veterans have been helped by the loans they are able to secure on their adjusted compensation certificates, the present need for assistance and relief has never been more acute," he said today.

"There are two explanations of this—the prolonged unemployment situation of the past several months and an increasing disability rate among World War veterans.

"The United States Veterans Bureau has announced that the average loan made to veterans, under legislation enacted by the recent session of congress, amounts to approximately $367.00. In the vast majority of instances, this money was spent as soon as it was obtained, in the payment of debts and the purchase of vital necessities absolutely required.

"As an organization dedicated to the administration of relief among veterans and their families, we must depend upon the proceeds of the 1931 Buddy Poppy sale as a means of providing this necessary relief until the present business depression is lifted and unemployment conditions are once again normal in this community.

"As in the past, one cent from each Buddy Poppy that adorns the lapel of patriotic citizens on Memorial Day will be diverted to the support and maintenance of the V. F. W. National Home for widows and orphans of deceased or totally disabled veterans at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

HOLINESS MEETING FRIDAY EVENING

The Friday evening united holiness meeting, which has been conducted by Ensign V. Thomsen at the Salvation Army headquarters for nearly two years, will be of unusual interest this week.

The special speaker of the occasion will be the Rev. Samuel R. Maitland. There will also be special music by C. Matthews, who will give a number of selections on his musical saw. Mrs. Grove Byerly will sing a solo. In addition there will be exceptionally good congregational singing.

Rascob may persuade his party to get off the fence and take a stand on Prohibition, but getting off on both sides of a fence is an easy way to split.

The Flower Parade

(This is the first of a series of garden articles.)

By DR. KARL F. KELLERMAN
Bureau of Plant Industry
U. S. Department of Agriculture

A summer-long parade of color and variety develops from plantings of annuals if they are handled properly and according to the practices recommended by the horticulturists of the bureau of plant industry. They are the transients of the flower beds, but they well repay for the starting they require each year in the beauty they yield for the gardener.

Dr. Karl F. Kellerman

At times in summer when the permanent plantings—shrubbery and hardy perennials—are out of bloom, the annuals can be depended upon to fill an otherwise colorless bed or border. Annuals are easy to cultivate and lend themselves readily to decorative arrangement. They are especially valuable where quick, temporary effects are desired.

In places where permanent plantings have not been made, or have been made so recently that the foliage is thin and ragged, some of the taller-growing annuals can be used with fine effect to fill the gaps.

Castor-bean or ricinus, sunflowers of various kinds, even sorghums and other corn-like annuals, some of which grow as high as six feet, make excellent substitutes in such places. Massed against buildings, fences or in front of other unattractive objects, these tall annuals serve as a colorful screen.

The moderate-growing, broad-leaved plants, such as the dwarf castor-bean, are suited for the bays of walks or driveways. The lower-growing varieties lend themselves for massing against the taller-growing annuals or shrubs.

Annuals vary widely in hardiness. some can be sown in the open ground in the fall or, as in the case of popies, in the very early spring even before freezing weather is past. Others are so tender that they must be kept at temperatures well above frost at all times. The tender varieties, if planted in the open, must be started late, or if planted early, they must be kept under glass until all danger of frost is over.

Half-hardy annuals may be sown early. But their planting must be timed so that they will not come up before the heavy frosts are past. Once above ground they will stand only light frosts.

Some annuals must be sown where they are to bloom. Others thrive better when transplanted one or more times.

Annuals may be selected to provide a constant supply of cut flowers for the home at times during the summer when the perennials are not in bloom.

When You
CAN'T QUIT

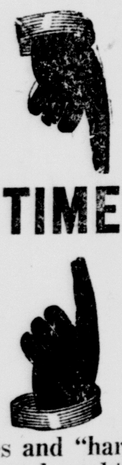

Fatigue is the signal to rest. Obey it if you can. When you can't, keep cool and carry-on in comfort.

Bayer Aspirin was meant for just such times, for it insures your comfort. Freedom from those pains that nag at nerves and wear you down. One tablet will block that threatening headache while it is still just a threat. Take two or three tablets when you've caught a cold, and that's usually the end of it.

Carry Bayer Aspirin when you travel. Have some at home and keep some at the office. Like an efficient secretary, it will often "save the day" and spare you many uncomfortable, unproductive hours. Perfectly harmless, so keep it handy, keep it in mind, and use it. No man of affairs can afford to ignore the score and more of uses explained in the proven directions. From a grumbling tooth to those rheumatic pains which seem almost to bend the bones, Bayer Aspirin is ready with its quick relief—and always works. Neuralgia. Neuritis. Any nagging, needless pain.

Get the genuine tablets, stamped with the Bayer cross. They are of perfect purity, absolute uniformity, and have the same action every time. Why experiment with imitations costing a few cents less? The saving is too little. There is too much at stake. But there is economy in the purchase of genuine Bayer Aspirin tablets in the large bottles.

GOOD TIMES COMING

CONGRESSMAN TELLS MORE OF HOSPITAL

Editor,
New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.
My dear Mr. Conway:

Last week I gave a short description of the Hospital, its architecture, capacity, departments, etc., today I shall say a few words about the Medical Department Schools.

In 1923 a school building was erected on the hospital grounds at a cost of $500,000.00 and the Army Medical School was transferred from its old location down town to this new building.

The Army Dental School is quartered in a temporary building as is the Army Veterinary School which was moved here from Chicago in 1924.

At the present time there is being constructed an addition similar to the Army Medical School Building, with a connecting section containing an auditorium with a seating capacity of four hundred. These new buildings will house the Army Dental, Veterinary and Nurses schools, also the offices for the Center.

The Army Medical School has two primary functions: namely, the special instruction of officers new to the service and conducting research problems. It also offers special courses to older officers: produces all the typhoid vaccine used by the Army, Navy and other Governmental activities including the Reserve Corps, National Guard, R. O. T. C. and C. M. T. C., performs chemical analysis of water, food, drugs etc., for the Army; makes routine bacteriologic examinations for all stations in the Third Corps Area and special examinations for Walter Reed hospital and the Army at large.

The teaching of the School centers on preventive medicine, with especial relation to the tropics and tropical diseases. The Clinical courses in Medicine and Surgery are conducted by the staff at Walter Reed Hospital.

The basic course at the Medical School begins September 1st and ends January 31st. The student body is composed of interns (sixteen now serving here) from the previous year's group and physicians recently commissioned from civil life. The latter group is composed of men under 32 years of age who have an M. D. degree from a Class A college, and have completed a year as interne in an approved hospital.

The time spent by a lieutenant as interne and as a student at the Medical School is credited to him for promotion and at the end of three years service, he is advanced to the rank of captain: after 12 years service to Major: 20 years service, Lieutenant Colonel and '26 years service to Colonel.

The Army Dental School conducts courses coinciding in time with those in the Army Medical School. The Dental students attend classes and lectures with medical students where the subject matter is related to dental practice.

The Veterinary School is conducted along lines similar to the Medical and Dental Schools.

I will write concerning the Nurse Corps next weeks.

Your humble servant,
J. HOWARD SWICK, M. C.
Walter Reed Hospital,
April 23, 1931.

While discussing this phase today several councilmen who was among those who attended the convention of the League of Third Class cities remarked:

STONEBORO CIVIL WAR SOLDIER, 98, GRANTED 1931 LICENSE TO FISH

GREENVILLE, April 23.—"Uncle" Jake Roberts, 98 years young, Civil War veteran of Stoneboro, applied for his fishing license Tuesday at the office of Justice of the Peace John Kelly and has received it.

Though in poor health the past winter, Uncle Jake, as he is familiarly known, expects to take an active interest in fishing during the summer months.

He is considered, deservedly, a past master at the art made famous by Izaak Walton. Proof of his prowess may be offered in the form of 12 large "Muskies" he captured in Sandy Lake three years ago. Health permitting, he hopes to repeat this summer.

Seven Counties Lead In Wheat

Million Bushel Wheat Crops Produced In Seven Counties In 1930

HARRISBURG, April 23.—Million bushel wheat crops were produced in each of seven counties within the commonwealth during 1930, according to the county estimates compiled by the bureau of statistics, Pennsylvania department of agriculture. These counties in order of size of the crop are: Lancaster, York, Franklin, Berks, Chester, Cumberland and Adams.

The total crop for the state was 25,110,000 bushels, the highest since 1918. The production was 5,000,000 bushels greater, but the value $4,000,000 less than the preceding year. The acre yield was estimated at 22.5 bushels, which equaled or exceeded that in 29 other winter wheat producing states. This average yield is nine bushels more per acre than that secured in Kansas. In both Chester and Lancaster, the county average exceeded 30 bushels.

"The quality of the wheat crop, based upon 939 carloads received at the Philadelphia nad Baltimore terminals, was better than that of the preceding year," according to George A. Stuart, director, bureau of markets. "The wheat was harvested under extremely favorable conditions which resulted in much of the crop being of high grade," he said.

Mr. Stuart emphasized, however, that Angoumois grain moth, cockle, garlic and smut are still important factors in reducing the value of Pennsylvania-grown wheat. With one exception, the percentage of the shipments containing garlic was the highest on record and the percentage containing cockle and smut the highest since 1925. The moth infestation and presence of smut were both less than usual. Out of the total terminal receipts 24 per cent of the carloads graded No. 1, 57 per cent No. 2, 10 per cent No. 3, 5 per cent No. 4, 2 per cent No. 5, and 2 per cent "sample". During the previous year, out of 747 carloads received, 46 per cent graded No. 2, 43 per cent No. 3, 6 per cent No. 4, 2 per cent No. 5, and 3 per cent "sample".

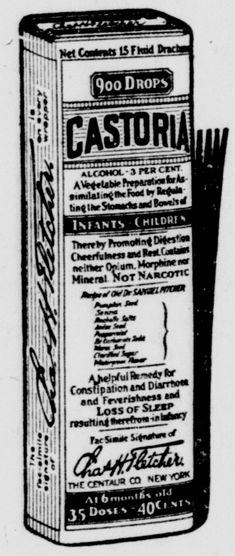

The 1930 shipments came principally from the following counties: Lancaster, York, Chester, Franklin, Cumberland, Adams, Lebanon Berks, Delaware, Northumberland, Bucks, Montgomery, Dauphin and Lehigh.

Hazy minded drivers might do well t' at least keep in mind that it's better t' not turn into a side street till they come to it.

Can't PLAY
Can't REST
—child needs Castoria

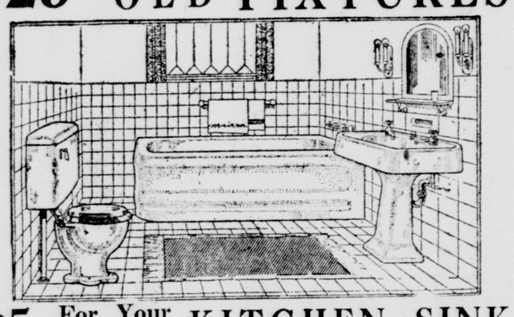

WHEN a child is fretful and irritable, seems distressed and uncomfortable, can't play, can't sleep, it is a pretty sure sign that something is wrong. Right here is where Castoria fits into a child's scheme—the very purpose for which it was formulated years ago! A few drops and the condition which caused the trouble is righted; comfort quickly brings restful sleep.

Nothing can take the place of Castoria for children; it's perfectly harmless, yet always effective. For the protection of your wee one—for your own peace of mind—keep this old reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; let it be an every-day aid. Its gentle action will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. In more liberal doses it will effectively help to regulate sluggish bowels in an older child.

All druggists have Castoria; it's genuine if you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature and this name-plate:

LOOKING BACK
IN NEW CASTLE

One of the best ways of determining the changes that have occurred in any city for any given period of years is to get hold of an old city directory and compare it with the latest edition of such a directory.

Recently a directory of the city issued in 1895-96 was located in a local store and some of the statistics and facts contained in that publication of 35 years ago gave an interesting insight into the changes that have occurred.

The directory published at that time was published by the Burch Directory Company of Akron, O. which concern still publishes the directories of this city.

This directory gave the population of the city as 18,500. It contained a list of residents of New Wilmington, Ellwood City and many other towns and townships of Lawrence county—in fact, it was really a county directory.

One of the more interesting facts brought out by a comparison of that directory with those of today was the fact that horses played an important part in the business life of that day. In fact, automobiles were an unknown quantity then.

There were 14 livery stables listed then, as against not a single one today. But two of the then proprietors of these establishments are now living.

Ten horse shoers were listed in the city. Of this number there is but one today, that of W. E. Marquis, located on South Cochran Way. Advertisements of concerns catering to the traveling public within the city, also funeral directors and others, showed horse-drawn vehicles. Feed and produce concerns were heavy advertisers. In fact, everything in the directory tended to indicate that there were hundreds of horses in the city in active use.

Tomorrow: city officers and other interesting facts of 35 years ago.

SUGAR IMPROVES FLAVOR OF MEAT AND VEGETABLES

Try a Dash of Sugar to a Pinch of Salt

Cooks who are successful in the art of making vegetables appetizing depend upon two rules: First, cook raw vegetables in as little water as possible. Canned vegetables should not be recooked—merely heated thoroughly. Second, season with sugar as well as salt.

Salt, by itself, merely overcomes flatness. Sugar, however, brings out the flavor of the vegetable. And when the two are combined an unusually appetizing goodness is developed. A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt is a good rule to follow.

The more one experiments with sugar and salt in seasoning string beans, cabbage, spinach, peas, carrots and other vegetables, the more apparent is the flavor value of this combination. Doctors and dietitians approve this use of sugar as a flavor. Most foods are more delicious with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

What Price Life? Is Rabbi's Theme

Temple Israel Rabbi To Speak On Interesting Theme On Friday Night

We are all keenly and painfully aware of the disastrous results that came, when the bottom dropped on prices and values of the various stocks and securities on the floors of our bourses and exchanges—Fortunes swept away, respectable people transformed into beggars, factories and business at a standstill, millions unemployed and the gaunt spectre of hunger and privation stalking about the land.

But that is a matter of only the last two years and economists and captains of business and industry predict improvement in sight.

But there is one commodity, priceless in value, whose market price has gone way below par in the last two decades, and that is the Price of Human Life.

What are the factors that have contributed to the horrible depreciation of that most precious article?

Can real prosperity be re-established unless we can restore the intrinsic market value of that commodity?

These questions will be discussed by Rabbi Menkes at the regular Friday evening services at Temple Israel tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

After the services there will be a social hour with Mr. and Mrs. E. Shenkan acting as hosts.

Stereopticon Views Of Holy Land Will Be Shown Friday

The mid-week service in the First Presbyterian church this week will be held Friday evening instead of Wednesday in order to give the school children a chance to attend the service when stereopticon pictures will be shown.

Dr. Walter E. McClure, pastor of the church, who travelled in the Holy Land last summer has secured a splendid number of fine views of the countries through which he passed and these, with an explanation by Dr. McClure, will be shown Friday evening. The pictures are from Egypt, Palestine and Syria.

The service is not alone for members of the church but any one who wishes to hear about these interesting countries.

Says Suicide Is Infectious

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 23—Suicide is a mentally infectious disease, according to Dr. Dennis H. Geffen, Medical Officer to Enfield Council.

"Inactual practise it is a most extraordinary fact that the troubles of those who commit suicide are usually of a temporary nature and far from serious," said the doctor in his annual medical report to the council.

Dr. Geffen suggested a Government commission should investigate the cause of the disease, which, he said, results in thousands of deaths each year in Great Britain alone.

Time For Entering Contest Near End

Hope To Have At Least 150 Entries In Yard And Garden Contest

ELLWOOD CITY, April 23.—With the entry closing date but a week away efforts in the Yard and Garden Contest are centering on urging all who intend to enter the contest to send in their names to the contest chairman at the Chamber of Commerce offices without delay.

It is hoped to have one hundred and fifty entries by May 1st when the list of entries will be closed and given to the committee on judging.

Since the inauguration of the campaign to beautify Ellwood which was started by the chamber a few weeks ago there has been a noticeable improvement in the appearances of the residential section. Never before have private grounds been spruced up as much as this spring.

The healthy contagion of clean-up and plant-up was given further emphasis with the re-establishment of a general Clean Up Week under direction of the Health Committee of Council which takes place next week.

A tour of the residential section will reveal surprising efforts which are put forth in the great "Crusade of Beauty." Families have been setting out plants, bulbs, shrubs, trees and vines sowing seed in the lawn, scattering fertilizer on turf and about the roots of plants, building lily pools and pergolas, laying flagstone walks, erecting birdhouses and birdbaths, arranging garden benches, and improving the appearance and livability of their premises in other ways.

With the municipal government joining hands with individual citizens for a cleaner and finer city, there should be a more noticeable betterment of general public health this summer and every effort will be made to encourage residents to keep the streets, parks, alleys and public properties in a clean condition.

Track Meet Is Postponed To Next Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, April 23.—The Ellwood City High Track men will have more time to train before their dual meet with Ambridge at the latter's home field. It was announced today by school authorities that Ambridge has postponed its meeting which was scheduled for Friday till the following Tuesday.

The explanation given is that there is some schedule conflict with the Ambridge school which will not permit the contest to be staged on the former set date. The local high school gladly accepted the change.

Ellwood City overwhelmingly defeated Ambridge here last year and is favored to beat them again. In comparing the records of the two schools in previous meets Ellwood has a great edge. Ambridge is favored to cop the high jump, pole vault, shot put, and the relay. But all the dashes, distance runs, discus, and javelin seems to be held in the locals hands.

Coach Todd Lloyd is highly pleased with his candidates and feels confident that the team selected will give a good accounting of itself in every meet. Lloyd has a very dangerous hurdles team in Mike Dunn, William Pander, and Ralph Strouse that should very impressively take the shuttle race.

New Town Hall For Zelienople

To Ask Bids For Erection Of Boro Building—Site Is Secured

ZELIENOPLE, April 23.—Bids will be received by the members of council for a new borough building and it is likely that a new building will be started in the very new future. The members of council met Tuesday evening in the town hall for the purpose of discussing the matter, and it was decided to advertise for bids and should the bids not be too high a new building will be erected.

The building will be of brick, a two story structure, and built on the vacant lot, next to the present town hall on New Castle street. This lot is owned by the borough, and is an excellent place for a town hall. The first floor will house the fire truck and apparatus, and the second floor will have a council chamber, room for the firemen to hold their meetings and the various offices that are needed in a town hall, including an office for the chief of police and other officials.

The present building is much too small, and a new and more up to date building has been needed for some time. The matter has been discussed for several years, and it was decided recently by the members of council to build it now when men are out of employment, and lumber is cheaper than it has been for several years. The lockup is also unfit for use at present, and a new jail will be included in the proposed new building.

Bids will be received, and if they are within reason, work on a new town hall will begin in the near future.

Smart Set Club Members Guests

ELLWOOD CITY, April 23.—Mrs. Walter Kuhn with delightful hospitality entertained the members of the Smart Set club at her home on Park avenue last night. There were four special guests on the occasion who were Mrs. Raymond Johnston, Mrs. Herbert Poland, Mrs. John Bruno and Miss Kathleen Chilton of Alabama.

The guests thoroughly enjoyed themselves around the three tables of bridge at play for the greater part of the evening with the prizes going to Mrs. Ray Aylesworth and Mrs. Herbert Davis.

A delectable menu served by the hostess at a late hour proved to be very resting in the surroundings of lovely spring flowers.

Mrs. Carl Zeigler invited the club to hold its next meeting at her home on Wayne avenue within one week.

P. H. C. Members Going To Akron

ELLWOOD CITY, April 23.—The degree team of the Protected Home Circle of this city motored to Akron, O., last night to help initiate a large number of candidates with the Akron lodge. There were six car loads of the local lodge that made the trip.

They were received by the Akron Circle there and enjoyed a delicious tureen dinner after the tiresome journey. An interesting program had been prepared on the occasion and 40 candidates were initiated into the circle.

While motoring to their destination those making the trip from this city visited the huge hangar for housing the world's largest dirigible. They had also seen the dirigible "Akron" while there. They were appalled upon the vastness of the construction.

The regular business meeting followed this discussion with routine matters coming up for consideration and a number of communications read. It was decided to take an offering through the Sunday school on May 3 for the benefit of the India lace industry. Following the address the Rev. and Mrs. Cuff rendered a beautiful duet. Rev. A. M. Stevenson was also called upon to render a selection.

The events of the day had been inaugurated with a delicious tureen dinner. Mrs. Joseph Moorhead, the president of the society, had presided at the meeting. New Castle Plays Erie Academy Friday

SECOND ANNUAL NIGHT SPRING FOOTBALL GAME FOR HIGH GRID SQUAD

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh Will Present Strong Lineup Against Academy High

Expect Big Crowd To View Unusual Game; Game Will Start At 8:00 O'Clock

Two high school football teams will wind up approximately one month of diligent training this afternoon in preparation for a night football game to be enacted under the lights of Taggart field on Friday night. The principals involved are New Castle high and Erie Academy high. The whistle which will send the two competing teams in action will be sounded at 8:00 o'clock.

According to the advance sale of tickets there will be a large crowd present to watch the contest. The first event of this kind last year between New Castle and Chaney drew surprisingly well. With ideal weather another big crowd is expected in the local stadium to watch the teams battle for supremacy in spring.

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh will send his gridders through the final workout this afternoon or this evening at Taggart field. More than likely the drills today will be somewhat light. As yet Bridenbaugh has not made a statement on his starting lineup. The line that will counteract the Erie team is a heavy one with several experienced men. Beef is not lacking in this department.

The backfield will probably be composed of four new members. Joe Wrona at fullback, Nick Uram at quarterback, Hib Reynolds end Gene Burns at the halfback posts seems likely to be the starting lineup in the backfield.

Erie Academy is prepared to match football wits with the local proteges according to word received from the Lake City. Practices have been going on for the past month. Several hundred fans from Erie who are anxious to see night football will follow their favorites here.

Academy will have the same team tomorrow night that will represent that city next fall. Erie expects to have one of the best teams in the history of the school.

Tickets for this game can be purchased at the Sporting Goods store on East Washington street. Reserved seats are 50 cents. Six new lights have been added to the playing field so as to make more lights in the end zones and near the goal lines. Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is preparing to take care of a big crowd Friday night.

Grapplers Ready To Invade City

Four Bouts Practically Arranged For Inaugural Of Sport Here

TRYING TO MATCH HANSEN AND FIRPO

It is generally accredited that the American holds the ace position in almost every branch of sport but there is one sport in which the foreign name shows up quite prominently and that is in wrestling which recently has become a craze.

And on Monday night when the fans trek into Castle bowl to see the wrestlers at work they will have an opportunity to see athletes who have grappled in practically every part of the world; in fact the schedule looks like an All-Nations card.

The wrestlers who have been booked for the inaugural here hail from Italy, Lithuania, Greece, Germany, Russia and the United States. It is probable that even a Japanese may be included on the card although this is not yet certain. The card arranged follows:

Mike Romano, Italian vs some equally matched oponent, main bout.

Karl Pogello, Lithuanian vs George Tragos, Greece.

Billy Bartusch, Germany vs Tony Felice, Italy.

Jack Washburn, United States vs Ivan Vacturoff, Russia.

Originally Pogello had been tentatively matched to meet Joe Bonneck but by a good move Romano's services were secured. Taro Myaki, the Japanese jiu jitsu expert wants to tackle Romano but lines are out, it is reported for another 'rassler'. Mike's foe will be known Thursday.

According to A. J. Bertolini who knows his wrestling 'flesh', this Romano is no pink tea performer and 'Bert' is trying to line up an opponent who will be every iota his equal. The other matches according to Bertolini should be exciting and prove an auspicious opening of the game in this city.

While the wrestlers are getting ready to strut their stuff Monday night, arrangements for a fistic encounter in which the old stand-by, Henry Firpo will be one of the principals is under way. Efforts are being made to match Haaken Hansen with the Louisville slugger, May 4.

Henry hasn't fought here in more than a year but he has won his last nine fights. Included among those he beat are Frankie Palmo, Mickey Fedore, Tony Tedesco, Jack Dillon, George Myers and Johnny Flynn. Firpo stopped Dillon who fought Henry twice in this city.

According to Larry Keogh who now pilots the Louisville slugger, he does not believe that the Norwegian will give Firpo a chance to even the score. It will be remembered that Hansen was given credit for a kayo in Chicago. Tom Walsh of Chicago has interested himself and is trying to persuade 'Haak' to sign.

Charles Guillium, who stands about six feet three and tips the beam at about 215 pounds, a few evenings ago declared that in his opinion the present day athletic performers, principally in baseball and fighting are not up to the ability of those who have passed on.

In speaking of baseball he said that some of the home run clouters accomplish their long distance swats in the small parks and said that the youngsters of today jump in their automobiles and go for a spin rather than turn out on the sandlots.

It is a difficult thing to compare athletes of the past with those of the present. However, 'Horse', a keen athlete has been around and had chance to study some of the present day athletes. His opinion was not expressed in a criticising manner but during a fanfest in which he met opposition.

Talking of wrestling it might be said that there are some good grapplers hereabouts though only one or two of them have had professional experience. Bob Meermans of the Y is one of the brainiest wrestlers here and he has kept to the amateur sports. He is a good instructor.

Henry MacNichols has developed a couple of state champions, the titles having been annexed recently at Johnstown. Jack Hulmes, Westminster college, has had experience and Charles Guillium knows practically every hold. Morrie Suber wrestled with a carnival taking on all-comers and is a 170 pound husky.

Witherspoon Leads Westminster Tennis

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, April 23.—John Witherspoon, Ben Avon, is captain of this year's Westminster College tennis team which Attorney Joseph McFate, New Castle, is getting ready for the opening match.

Witherspoon, a senior, has the distinction of winning a letter in varsity basketball three years ago, but injuries have kept him off the team since then. A "trick knee" deprived Westminster of one of the cleverest ball handlers in recent history in this case.

Witherspoon's father was the captain of the first basketball team at Westminster, back in 1898. "Spoon", as the tennis leader is called, is a member of Phi Pi Phi fraternity. He has majored in science.

Traded Players Proving "Busts"

Lefty O'Doul Has Failed To Hit Size Of Hat With Brooklyn Team

FEW EXCEPTIONS TO RULE FOUND

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service
Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 23.—Trade may be a great boon to the welfare of nations, but the season's baseball records to date fail to show that major league managers did themselves and good by swapping players since last season.

Of the thirty odd big leaguers who are wearing new uniforms this year, only two or three have shown improved ability as a result of a change of scenery. And to be quite frank about it, most of them have been absolute flops.

O'Doul Off Form

The outstanding "bust" of the lot has been Lefty O'Doul, who led the National league at bat two years ago and finished fourth in last year's race. Brooklyn fans figured the acquisition of O'Doul and Chick Thompson from the Phillies would give them the 1931 pennant, but Lefty had compiled a frightful .156 average to date and Thompson was laid up with an injury until yesterday. O'Doul undoubtedly will be hitting them high, wide and handsome before many more New York magistrates resign, but meanwhile the agony in Brooklyn is terrible.

To make matters worse, Jumbo Elliott and Clise Dudley, who left Brooklyn when O'Doul and Thompson arrived, have won three games for the Phils. The fact that Elliott has beaten the Robins twice makes the limburger even more fragrant.

The Robins have gotten a .500 return thus far on their investment in two American league castoffs, Jack Quinn and Joe Shaute. Quinn has lost one game and Shaute won one.

Pitchers Not So Good

Bob Smith, obtained from Boston, has won one game for the Cubs and lost one. Willoughby lost one game for the Pirates just as easily as he used to do with the Phils last season.

Thevenow and Bartell, who traded shortstop berths on the Phils and Pirates, have fared equally poorly. Thevenow is hitting only .165 for the Bucs. Bartell is batting .243 and has made five errors afield. Bill Regan, who came to Pittsburgh from the Red Sox, has a .125 average to date.

The veteran Wally Schang, cast adrift by Connie Mack, has compiled an anaemic mark of .095 with Detroit. Old Ed Roush, laid off for a year by the Giants, is hitting .211 for the Reds. Hal Lee, with Brooklyn last year, is batting .226 with the Phils.

Phil Todt, rescued from the Red Sox, has batted only .160 to show his appreciation to the A's. Harry Rice, obtained by Washington from the Yankees via the waiver route, is batting .222.

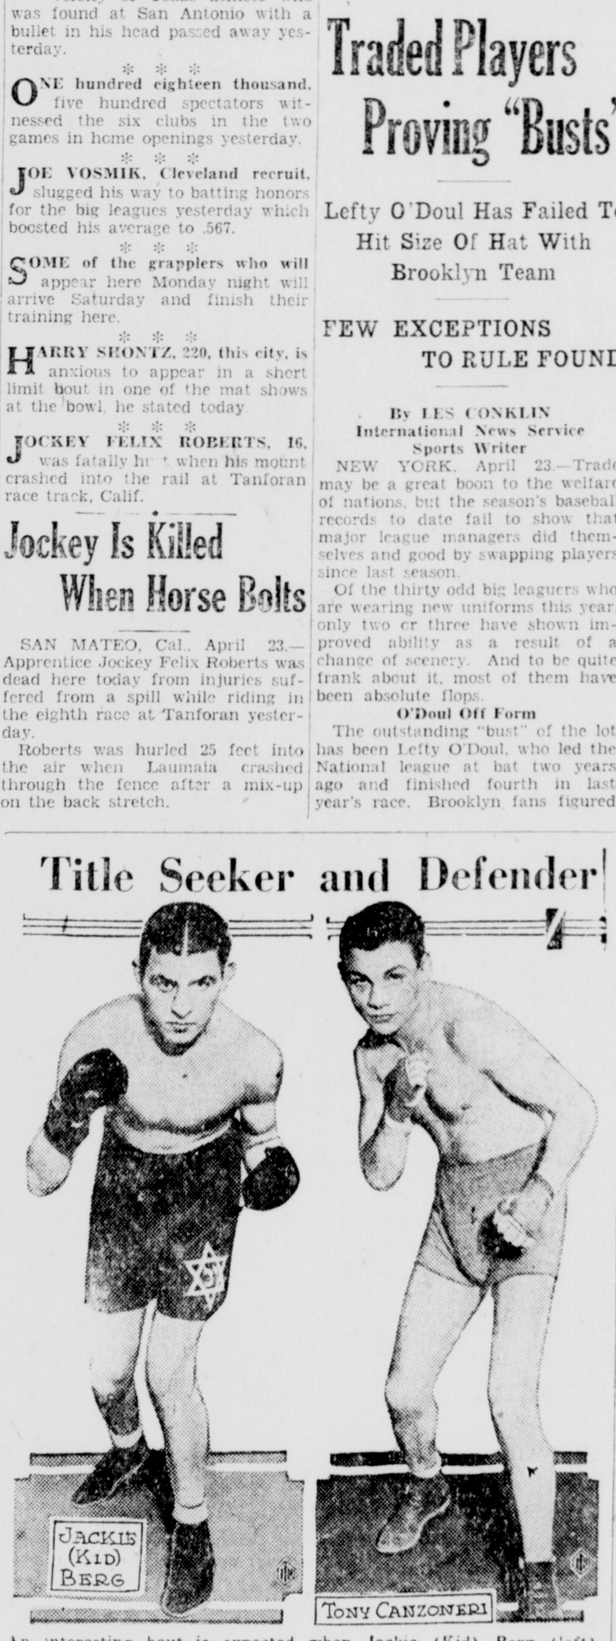

Blue Is Hitting

Donie Bush, White Sox manager, and Dan Howley, Cincinnati pilot, are the only managers who have qualified as David Harums. Donie grabbed Lu Blue from the Browns and Lu is batting .375 for the Sox. Bush also picked a winner in Eichrodt, former Cleveland outfielder, who has hit .667 in two games, having collected four bingles in as many times at bat yesterday. Roettger, ex-Giant, is hitting the ball at a .387 clip for the Reds.

Bill Hunnefield, once a White Sox infielder, is batting .308 for Cleveland but has committed six errors at the shortstop post.

Earl Sheely, up again from the minors, is hitting .371 for the Braves, and Wilcy Moore, once a Yankee, is making a comeback with the Red Sox.

Title Seeker and Defender

AMATEUR BASEBALL

On Tuesday evening the Croton All-Stars opened the baseball season with a victory over the Hi-Y team by a 15-5 score. Rubeis on the mound for the winners had 10 strikeouts to his credit. The Hi-Y team collected but two swats from the offerings of Rubeis.

CROTON ALL STARS ORGANIZE TEAM FOR BASEBALL SEASON

Croton All Stars baseball team met at the home of Tony Perrotta and organized for the present baseball season.

The following are on the roster of the All Star team: R. Cook, H. Valentino, O. Aven, J. Pia, J. Depinto, R. Leonelli, J. Leonelli, T. Perrotta, O. Stone, I. Rubeis, W. Mancine and A. DeLorenzo. I. Rubeis was elected captain of the team. The Stars would like to meet any fast junior team in the city. For games call 3393 or 830 and ask for Harry.

Babe Ruth Suffers Injuries In Game With Red Sox

CRASHES INTO CHARLIE BERRY

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 23.—The New York Yankees today went into the lead in the American League pennant race but the 7 to 5 victory over the Boston Red Sox that put them on top cost the loss of Babe Ruth.

Collapsing from a thigh injury, the famous home run hitter and the biggest drawing card in the history of baseball may be out for several weeks.

Further tragedy stalked the victory hopes of the New Yorkers, it was learned this morning, Lou Gehrig, another Yankee star, is also suffering from a bad leg and may join Ruth in the hospital list, although he hoped to continue in the lineup, as he is nearing a record for continuous play.

Crashes Into Berry

Ruth's collapse climaxed a day of bad luck. First he stepped into a depression in the ground and twisted his left instep. Then he crashed into Charlie Berry, Sox catcher, as he dashed for a score. Berry is a former Lafayette football star and some reports said he "shouldered" Ruth as the home run king scored. Ruth's thigh was badly bruised and word here was that if a blood clot developed he might be idle for many days.

Reports to the Yankee clubhouse today indicated that the exact extent of Babe's injuries will not be known until further examination but he was not believed seriously hurt and may be back in play in two weeks or less.

Should he remain out of the game for a month ,not only would the Yankees be crippled but the loss in dollars to the New York club and to the Yanks' opponents would be huge. About half of the great throngs who came to see the Yanks play all around the circuit are drawn by Ruth's big club.

Giants Beat Phils

A homer by the rejuvenated Hughie Critz started the Giants on a late rally and they won before 45,000 fans 5 to 4, over the Phillies.

Hadley did weak mound work for the Senators and the Athletics won from Washington 5 to 1. Cronin homered to rob Grove of a shutout.

The Cardinals continued supreme, defeating the Cincy Reds 3 to 2, with Johnston striking out six Cincinnati batters.

Caraway restricted Cleveland to eight hits and Eichrodt, Sox outfielder, got four hits and a sacrifice to win for Chicago, 10 to 2.

More than 25,000 fans, statesmen, dignitaries and bands failed to help out the Brooklyn Robins and they fell again. This time the Boston Braves beat them, 4 to 0, Zachary giving Brooklyn only four hits and the Robins matched these with four expensive errors.

Rain held off the Chicago-Pittsburgh and Detroit-St. Louis games.

Doctor Makes Report

New York, April 23.—Babe Ruth is suffering from the same injury which bothered Knute Rockne, famous football coach, for many months before his death in an airplane crash recently, Dr. E. V. Painter, New York Yankees' trainer said today.

Talking over the telephone from Boston, where Ruth injured his thigh yesterday in a game with the Red Sox, Painter said the great hitter was struck on the major thigh muscle on the left leg, half way between the hip and knee. A similar injury developed into a blood clot for the Notre Dame coach and he was troubled for a long time.

"It is difficult to foretell the effect of such an injury," Dr. Painter said. "Sometimes it is merely a muscle bruise, which we hope this is."

KNUTE ROCKNE'S BEST STORIES

Written for Central Press.

The football season of 1922 looked gray and dull for Knue Rockne, the famous mentor of Notre Dame. Graduation saw the passing of the great 1921 team. In the line of that aggregation were Harry Mehre, center; Hunk Anderson, now senior coach at the Irish school, and Ed Degree, guards; Garvey and Frank Coughlin, tackles, and Eddie Anderson and Roge Kiley, ends. Only Degree remained for the following year. In the backfield were Coughlin and Johnny Mohardt, halfbacks; Chet Wynne, fullback, and Frank Thomas, quarter. Only Thomas remained for the season of '22.

Old Rock faced the 1922 season with a bunch of sophomores, untried and inexperienced. The first three games were won without trouble. The fourth was the big test—the first game ever played in Atlanta, Ga., by Notre Dame against Georgia Tech.

The players were nervous. The team dressed slowly, tightening shoe laces, arranging headguards. There was little pep. Then Rock walked in and yelled: "Everybody up!"

He gave one of his many brilliant lectures. As he talked, the squad's spirits began to rise a bit. At the end he pulled a telegram from his pocket. It was from his son, seriously ill at home. "Daddy, win this game for me," he read. Rock turned and walked out.

No team in intercollegiate football could have stopped Notre Dame that day.

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY WILLIAM RITT

Central Press Sports Editor.

When you, gentle reader, threw in the clutch of the old stem-winder this morning and navigated the densely populated boulevards at 40 per with one eye on the traffic lights and the other on the sweet young thing over on the curb who might have wanted a lift downtown, you didn't think you were a hero.

And you weren't. You were just another wage slave, office-bound to earn the daily beans and movie money.

However, 25 years ago you would have been a sport page god, a dashing demon who rode the wind, a reckless coot who defied death for a thrill.

That's what Barney Oldfield says, and Barney, who's thrown more dust to the rear than a dozen of you fellows, knows whereof he speaks.

* * *

"Listen," says Barney, "in auto racing alone of all sports has the incredible feat of a national sport hero become a common-place event in the life of Mr. Average Citizen within the span of one generation.

"Just a few weeks ago I started out on a long tour in a stock car and easily maintained speeds that would have had the auto race track fans of the old days gasping with wonder.

"On my last trip cross-country I drove at a higher speed than I attained on the old Harlem track in Chicago in 1905. They called my speed 'phenomenal', then. How fast was I going? Sixty.

"Don't laugh. If you had never seen a vehicle traveling at 60 miles an hour you would think that speed was lightning. Modern roads, modern motor construction gives every driver today a chance to beat the time we early race drivers thought was wonderful."

* * *

The first auto race held in America was a reliability run in Chicago on November 28, 1895. J. F. Duryea won it with an average speed of seven and one-half miles an hour. Try to go that slow in your car. You'll feel like a statue.

The race speed record is better than 135 miles an hour, set by the late Frank Lockhart in Atlantic City over a 10-mile stretch. Five drivers have averaged better than 200 miles an hour. One, Captain Sir Malcolm Campbell, has attained a speed of better than four miles a minute.

Campbell drove approximately 34 times as fast as did Duryea. Both were sport heroes and rightly so. Duryea did not know if his car would blow up, Campbell wasn't sure that his car would stay on the ground. They were fellow pioneers.

Race drivers from the days of the Duryeas and the Oldfields to these times of Billy Arnolds and Campbells have risked their lives for a two-fold purpose—to win races and to test motor improvements. That sort of sets them apart from the rest of the sport page gods, for their sport has been more than a sport. It has been, still is, always will be a gigantic test tube out of which has come one of the great factors of industrial progress, increasingly swifter travel.

Managers of other teams who wish to have their aggregations play the Universal Sanitary should call 3080 and ask for the baseball manager.

Pay Homage To First Baptist Floor Quintets

"A" League Team And "B" League Five Are Tendered Banquet On Tuesday Night

On Tuesday evening in the basement of the First Baptist church, a banquet honoring the basketball teams representing that church for the successful season just concluded was held. Both the "A" league team and the "B" league quintet were present at the event.

The "A" league team finished second at the end of the first half but did not meet with much success in the second half due to tough breaks. The "B" league team captured the first half title. A play off at the end of the season saw the First Baptist "B" team lose to the Finnish Lutherans.

The toastmaster at the event was French Johnson. The program presented follows:

Invocation—Rev. George M. Landis.

Introduction of players.

Pep songs led by "Red" Williams.

Solo—Rudy Theis.

"Lure Winners"—Rev. Landis.

Rev. Landis in his talk compared basketball with Christians. He said that the more one puts in it the more he gets. Mike Kulich, coach of the "B" team, next gave a short speech. He predicts a better "B" team next season. "Bill" Wallace, captain of the "A" team, made a few comments on the past season.

"Cal" Smith, captain of the "B" team, thanked the team for the cooperation and complimented the coaches. Other speakers were Rudy Theis, Francis Wainio, Norman Aiken, Bill Malsi and Mr. Johnson.

The cooking staff was composed of Mrs. Harry Remley, Mrs. L. D. Garratt, Mrs. Victor Smith, Mrs. Bert McKibben, Mrs. Paul Barbour and Mrs. Boyd Russler. The supper was served by the Misses Jean Remley, Helen Garratt, Charlott Barbour, Kathryn Russler and Mabel Smith.

Those present included Mr. Johnson, Rev. Landis, Red Williams, Elmer Whiteman, Harry Sanders, Claire Wallace, Bill Wallace, Kenneth Garratt, Cal Smith, Rudy Theis, Howard Smith, Hugh Davis, Norman Aiken, Mike Kulich, Manning and Joe Weller and Franklin Russler. The special guests were Francis Wainio and Bill Malsi.

Rain Spoils Track Trials

Titans Unable To Conduct Final Trials On Wednesday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON April 23.—Final time trials for the Westminster College track team, scheduled for yesterday afternoon, were called off on account of rain and snow which made the Titan track slippery. If good weather prevails today the track team will hold light workouts. Time trials before the Grover meet Saturday will not be possible.

A number of time trials have already been run, but it was planned to culminate the training period for the first meet with a regular meet yesterday. As a result of the weather conditions the Titan team which faces Grove City in the opening meet will be something of an unknown quantity.

It is certain that a number of freshmen will be on the Westminster team. Harper, Morris, McCall, three frosh, will be in the sprints; Kennedy, Coles, Burry, three more first-year men, in the distance runs, and Patterson, Ketterer, Hamas, first-year men, in the weights.

Veterans on whom Westminster depends for points include Captain Peresenyi in the sprints, Brownlee in the hurdles, Hemer in the sprints and Fuller in the weights.

The Grove City meet is scheduled for two o'clock Saturday afternoon on the upper track field.

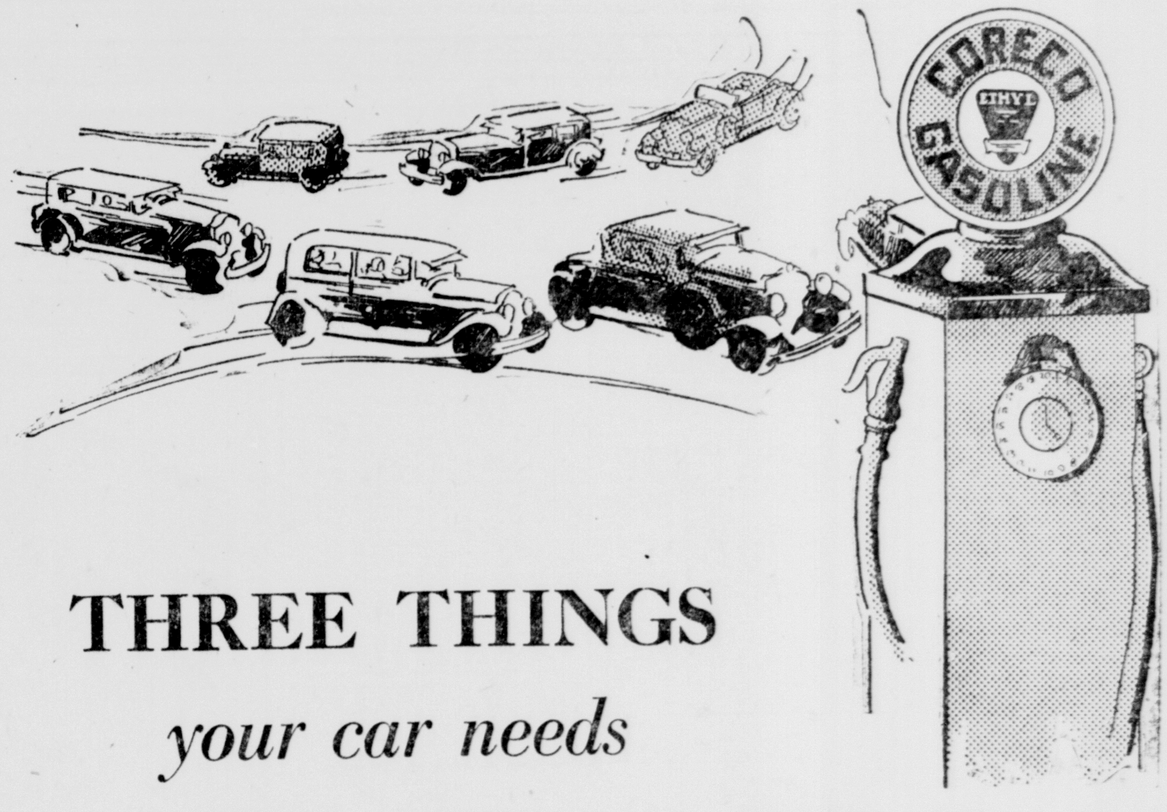

LOCKLEY MUSHBALL TEAM IS ORGANIZED

The Lockley Machine Shop mushball team was organized at a meeting held on Wednesday night at the Fourth Ward Fire department. H. W. Lockley was elected as president of the team. Clifford R. Roberts was made secretary and treasurer. Howard "Fat" Reed, was unanimously elected as manager of the team for the second time. The team went on record as favoring the adoption of the 12-inch ball for the league this year.

How unfortunate that the only men who know how to run America decided to be famous critics.

You're the JUDGE

The Decision

The court held with Ezra.

The judges reasoned thus:

The law absolutely requires that weights and measures shall be approved by the inspector of weights and measures, and the approval is directly involved and is a part of every selling contract. If goods are sold by unsealed weights and measures the law has been violated and the court will not permit a violation of the law.

Industrial Stocks Register Come-Back

(International News Service)

NEW YORK April 23—After dropping off to a slightly lower price level at the beginning of today's session, the Industrial stocks and leading Utilities registered a sharp comeback. There were indications that the market had been sold to a stand-still in the last week or two, and that this reckless short selling had finally placed the market in a position to rally sharply. Before the end of the first hour recoveries of 1 to 2½ points were recorded in the favorites, while Auburn Auto raced up 12½ points to 205.

General conditions within the market, rather than in the business and financial world, were held mainly responsible for today's upturn. The short side of the market was overcrowded and the bulls were in an excellent position to force the bears into covering. United States Steel, which started the day at 126½ unchanged from yesterday, forged ahead to 129. General Motors, pushed back on heavy selling at the opening to 39½, rallied to 41. Bethlehem Steel moved up about 2 points to 48¾, and Consolidated Gas gained a point. New York Central, which opened at 98¾, recovered to 101 and Atchison rallied 3 points to 169.

In connection with the rally in U. S. Steel, it was reported that the directors Tuesday would declare the usual dividend of $1.75 a share on the common stock though net income in the period is not expected to exceed 50 cents a share. A reduction to 4 or 3 per cent is forecasted for Bethlehem when the directors meet a week from today.

North American, Public Service and other popular Utilities were well bought in the second hour, while profit taking in the Industrials wiped out a part of the ground gained earlier in the day. A break in Fox Film carried that stock to a new low on the move at 20½. Call money was unchanged at 1½ per cent.

Ball Yard Banter

The baseball season is still so young that you can't tell the good ball players from the bad ones, but Pittsburgh is already on the hunt for a pitcher. Fact is, the Pirates were looking for a new hurler before the season began and they are just continuing the search.

* * *

News that Steve Swetonics return to good health has not progressed rapidly has not helped matters either.

* * *

Steve went on the shelf after the first spring workout and he has been a patient since. The club medico at the time figured Steve could start throwing and limbering up the old arm before the season began, but now the report is that Steve must rest another month.

* * *

The Buccaneers, meanwhile, have not been asleep. They've tried to get almost every hurler on which waivers have been asked.

* * *

But the waivers have been withdrawn. Ball clubs are getting cagey. You don't see any big league outfit rushing to the Bucs' aid, even for good coin, when all the Pirates need to get into that National league flag scrap is a little encouragement in the box.

* * *

The Cubs have plenty of good pitchers decorating the bench and Pittsburgh has been trying in vain to get one.

Harbinger of New Spanish Republic

One of the demonstrations that marked the beginning of the end of monarchal rule in Spain. Photo was taken on election day in Madrid and shows some of the wildly enthusiastic voters who cast the overwhelming republican vote that forced the abdication of King Alfonso. Many gatherings of Republicans were dispersed by police and Civil Guards on that day but today the Republicans rule.

Miles And Miles Of Spaghetti Eaten

Deputy Sheriffs Do A Little Figuring And Make Remarkable Discovery

This morning Deputy Sheriffs Andy Venditto, Russell McBride and William Reynolds decided to determine just how much spaghetti was eaten last night at the dinner given at the Cathedral by the Catholic Societies of St. Vitus Parish.

It was found that five hundred pounds of spaghetti had been used in feeding the immense crowd attending the dinner. A little figuring developed the fact that the spaghetti consumed was 166,250 feet in length or 31½ miles long.

Beauty To Share In Large Estate

Mrs. Charlotte Nash Nixon-Nirdlinger, Will Get One-Third Of Estate

SECOND WIFE IS GIVEN BIG PART

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—Mrs. Charlotte Nash Nixon-Nirdlinger, former St. Louis bathing beauty, will receive one-third of the income from the $725,000 estate left by her husband, Fred G. Nixon-Nirdlinger, who she shot to death in Nice, France, it was learned today with filing of the will for probate.

The bequest made it clear that this clause of the will had been arranged in a pre-nuptial agreement made in 1928 shortly before their re-marriage.

Many Share Estate

The slain man's second wife, Mrs. Lura McKenna Nixon-Nirdlinger, whom he divorced to marry the beauty pageant winner, receives the greatest share of the estate. She was left 43 per cent of the income of the estate while two adult sons by Nixon-Nirdlinger's first marriage receive $1 each. The two children by his last marriage to Charlotte Nash will receive 10 per cent each of the income from the total estate. The other 3 2-3 per cent is bequeathed to Thomas M. Dougherty, business associate and friend of the dead man.

Eventually the whole estate goes to charity. When all beneficiaries are dead, the estate will be divided equally by the Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital, the Edwin Forrest Home for aged actors and actresses, the Eagleville Sanitarium at Eagleville, Pa., the Jewish Hospital and the National Vaudeville Artist' Home and Club of New York City.

Diet Should Be Watched Among Young Children

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

There is considerable variation in the reactivity of different children's intestines, but in general constipation in children is largely a matter of diet.

Sugars and starches are the ingredients of the child's diet, necessary to proper intestinal stimulation. When fats are in excess especially when there is also too much protein or casein relatively, constipation results. This combination, or rather lack of balance, results in the formation of lime soaps in the intestine which have little if any stimulating effect on the bowel. Not infrequently an infant on this sort of regimen will pass hard lime lumps in the stool. Sometimes these tear a small fissure in the anus and the pain of this causes the child to suppress the call to stool and results in still more severe grades of constipation.

The carbohydrates, when given plentifully, ferment in the infant's bowel and furnish a gentle simulus to peristalic movement. This, of course does not mean that excessive starch should be put in the diet. Simple sugars are usually completely absorbed, leaving no residue, but this is not true of other starches which leave a soft residue and are most likely to result in regular bowel evacuations.

Treatment of constipation in infancy and childhood can be overdone. If there is only one stool a day, or even if a day is sometimes missed and still the child is perfectly healthy in every other way, gaining weight and growing, no treatment is indicated.

The simplest, and usually most effective form of treatment is the addition of starches to the diet. For instance, one of the liquid malt extracts. Fruit juices and, for older children, cooked fruits and vegetables are indicated. Prune juice is more effective than orange juice. Apple sauce is for older infants and children only, as it is likely to cause too much "colic" in young infants.

A good amount of cereals, smooth wheat cereal, farina, oatmeal, barley are all indicated for the child after the age of six months, strained at first, and as the child grows older without being strained.

Drug treatment should never be employed as habit. Only at intervals, or when infection or other illness tends to make the bowel sluggish. Mineral oil or milk of magnesia are the best cathartics for children when any are required. Mechanical methods of stimulation as by glycerine suppositories or enemata are occasionally indicated, but here again a habit should not be formed. A well known authority in children's disease says, "The development of the enema habit is almost as bad as the cathartic habit."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clenending can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Logan Clenening in care of this paper or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding" "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."
